D.C. Moves to Qualify for Transit Funds

Council Meets With Federal Official; Urges Early Study on Part of Agency

By RON BATES

Daly City officials were told last week federal funds could be made available for the city to develop its own transportation system — if the need for them was proven in a preliminary study by the Bay Area Transportation Study (BATS).

Councilman Albert Polonsky said the city would push for an early study of the area by the nine-county agency at a meeting at the Fairmont Hotel next Wednesday.

W. B. Hurd, deputy assistant administrator of the transportation division of the Federal Home and Housing Finance Agency, met with city officials Thursday to discuss the city's application for federal transportation funds made earlier this year.

One of the city's main points made in the application was that the proposed system would act as a feeder line to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District station planned in the vicinity of Knowles Avenue in Daly City.

Hurd said the over-all study of BARTD's feeder system would correctly fall within the jurisdicton of BATS and the federal agency could not grant the city's additional request for funds to conduct an individual study of the Daly City area.

RICHARD ZETTEL, a BATS official, said later that the organization is just getting staffed and is in the process of drawing up formal plans for the study.

He said the federal government is probably anxious to avoid duplication of efforts by the Bay Area counties.

The meeting at the Fairmont Hotel next week, he said, is being co-sponsored by BATS and the Association of Bay Area Governments to obtain the views of each Bay Area city and to accelerate study plans.

Polonsky said he and Councilman Francis Pacelli will make a presentation at the San Francisco conference, urging an early Daly City study and pointing out that Daly City is in a "different position" than other cities affected by BARTD.

The BARTD station at Knowles is a terminal point and will be one of the first stations to be completed.

Daly City is also in the unusual position of paying taxes for the West Bay Transit Authority and not getting the benefits of it, Polonski said.

IF, ACCORDING to Polonsky, the city is successful in obtaining federal funds, this will give Daly City another alternative to consider in efforts to improve the transportation situation.

Daly City could conceivably buy the buses and let personnel from San Francisco's Municipal Railways Company operate them, the councilman stated.

This would probably cut down on the cost of the proposed Muni line now under study he pointed out.

The city would buy the capital equipment with the federal government providing two-thirds of the money and the city the remaining third.

"The city would be under no

PUBLIC BAN ASKED

Oyster Point Dumping Halt Is Proposed

A halt to public use of the Oyster Point Marina garbage dump was proposed by Councilman Frank Bertucelli during the South San Francisco City Council meeting Monday night.

Bertucelli suggested the city seriously consider a ban on public dumping and require a trash pickup throughout the city instead.

The move, he explained, would probably result in "a cleaner operation" of the dump.

"As it stands now, we get people from Pacifica, Brisbane and San Francisco bringing their garbage into our dump," he said, "and they lose half their loads on our city streets."

Councilman Emilio Cortesi said he was sure the city has an agreement with a scavenger company that calls for the dump to remain open.

"Insofar as the garbage being left in the streets," he said, "that's why we have policemen. Tag the violators!"

Bertucelli said if that were the case, the city would need a special squad just to patrol the streets for garbage dumpers on weekends.

The issue was referred to City Manager Eugene Aiello for a report.

In other business, the council received what bond consultants described as "exceptionally good" bids on municipal bonds for the Butler Road Improvement Project.

The lowest interest rate of seven bids was submitted by

4 Trustees Want S.S.F. Within CSM

Dr. Julio Bortolazzo wooed South San Francisco Unified School district trustees Monday night, and won four of them.

Attempting to convince the trustees they should move now, if they want to become a part of the San Mateo Junior College district, he convinced every board member but Leo Eserini.

The remaining four, led by Mrs. Lorraine Cooper, approved a petition to the County Board of Supervisors to ask the annexation, and approved taking the question to their voters in April.

Eserini played "Priscilla" to Bortolazzo's "John Alden," however, by saying Bortolazzo's leadership at CSM is wonderful, but that Eserini is in no hurry to wed the college district.

The nosegay offered to the South San Francisco trustees during the courtship was a chance, said Dr. Bortolazzo, to "buy into a $33 million corporation for $1,800,000."

He said the Souh San Francisco people would have to as-

Vote Fails To Rescind New Bylaw

A controversial new Mary's Help Hospital bylaw was upheld last week when a vote to rescind the measure failed by four votes to gain the necessary two-thirds margin for approval.

The vote by doctors on Mary's Help staff was 52 to 31.

The measure, scheduled to become effective when the hospital moves into its new quarters in Daly City in the fall of next year, will deny the general practice or so-called "family" doctor surgical and obstetrical privileges unless he has specialist training.

The bylaw has been strongly opposed by the California Academy of General Practice and a number of other medical groups.

Hospital officials have pointed out that any doctor who wishes to enjoy surgical and obstetrical privileges may apply to the hospital staff and retain the privileges after the hospital moves to Daly City.

Asked if the hospital would have a change of heart in view of the closeness of the vote, Lawrence Hoban, assistant administrator, noted:

"The hospital's by-laws require a two-thirds vote for this sort of thing. The amendment (to rescind) didn't pass and that is all there is to it."

However, the president of the California Academy of General Practice, Dr. Lester A. Krotcher, declared:

"Although the amendment has been temporarily defeated be-

Westlake's Christmas Finery

The Window Wonderland

Merchants in the Westlake Shopping Center locked competitive horns in a lively Christmas window decoration contest last week and when the hammering, scissoring and trimming faded away, the result was a Yuletide wonderland depicted through plate glass.

A panel of three judges were hard-pressed to agree on winners of the contest but after considerable thought and deliberation, they came up with these decisions:

Division A — Crocker-Citizens Bank, first; Bank of America, second, and Westlake Bowl, third.

Division B—Seymour's Paints, first; Westlake Hardware, second, and The Fashion, third.

Division C—Westlake Flower Shop, first; Douglas Mack photography, second and Westlake Music Center, third.

The winners shared a total of $255 in cash prizes.

Judges were Dr. George Riba, president of the Daly City Rotary Club; Mrs. Helen Cordell, art consultant for the Jefferson Elementary School District and David Friedenberg, president of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

GLADIEUX NOT OFFERED JOB

Coast C of C Hires Full-Time Manager

The Pacifica Chamber of Commerce announced this week it has hired a full-time executive director. He will assume his duties January 1.

He is John B. Overfield, 38, of 177 North El Camino Real, San Mateo, an independent market research analyst.

Overfield will succeed Basil Gladieux, now the chamber's part-time manager, who has been under fire from segments of the Pacifica community for statements he made late last month about the John Birch Society and his opposition to Oceana High School's participation in a University of California debate in February.

A chamber release said the group's board of directors had held a special meeting Friday evening when negotiations with Overfield were "finalized."

A chamber spokesman said the position had not been offered to Gladieux.

John Simmons, president of the chamber, said yesterday that the position would pay about $8,000 a year. The salary was recommended by a three-man committee of chamber members, appointed to study the hiring of a full-time manager.

Overfield was associated with the Hearst newspapers in San Francisco from 1963 until February of this year when he entered into marketing research on his own.

Prior to 1963, he had been merchandising manager for The American Weekly, a Hearst Corporation publication, in Chicago. He joined the corporation in 1957.

The chamber release said Overfield "has received national recognition as a marketing analyst in the food industry" and later "became prominent as a national sales promotion manager for Wilson and Company in Chicago."

Gladieux has been employed

D.C. Scores Victory for Full Streets

Daly City scored a small victory in a skirmish last week with the county over the approval of "half streets" in proposed annexations.

The county's Local Agency Formation Commission Thursday approved two proposed Daly City annexations with full streets after City Attorney Paul Hupf, City Engineer William Chapman and Councilman Bernard Lycett pleaded the city's case before the commission.

Hupf told the commission, which must approve the boundary lines for all areas to be annexed, that half streets pre-

Karp Plan Approved In Pacifica

After some two hours of discussion last Wednesday night, Pacifica city councilmen approved the controversial plan of the Karp Development Company to erect a 400-unit apartment house development at Skyline and Hickey Boulevards.

Some 80 householders of the nearby Fairmont tract appeared to protest the project and a petition containing some 60 signatures was presented to the council.

The council approved the apartments after representatives of the company presented preliminary plans to construct duplexes on two adjoining four-acre sites to act as a buffer between the apartments and adjoining single family home areas.

In addition to the 400 apartment units to be constructed on 17 acres, the company will build 37 duplex housing units on its other property.

The council rejected an application from Robert F. Lawrence to place two electrical services

GASOLINE IGNITES

Two Injured in D.C. House Fire

Two persons were injured in a two-alarm fire that badly damaged a home at 79 Baldwin Street in Daly City Thursday night. A family of four fled from the building.

The father, David C. Spingola, 33, suffered a severe burn on the back of his left hand. A Daly City fireman, Jay Mogdlin, suffered burns on two fingers.

Spingola had been in the garage-basement, about 8:30 p.m., draining water out of the gasoline tank of a friend's 1949 model auto, when a portable light he was using broke, igniting some gasoline.

The flames spread quickly, causing a nearby gas meter to explode. The explosion, in turn, sent flames racing up through furnace vents into the main part of the house.

Spingola and his wife grabbed their two children, Margie, about 3, and Danny, six months, and fled from the house.

The flames scorched the side of a neighboring house at 75 Baldwin, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Chelone. Damage was estimated at $1,500.

Firefighters estimated damage to the Spingola house at $8,000 and to the contents at $3,000.

The fire was the third with two-alarms in Daly City in three weeks. On November 13, Robert C. Hall, 165 Glenwood Drive, died when flames swept through his split-level home.

November 29, a fire badly damaged the upper floor of a home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Langwell, 575 Templeton Avenue. They were away on a Thanksgiving weekend trip at the time.

Renewal of Shop Permit Turned Down

The Daly City Planning Commission last week denied continuance of a nonconforming use, a beauty shop, by Mrs. Maria Luna, in a residential area at 901 Hanover Street.

Commissioner Richard Dwyer said it is the intent of the city to eventually discontinue all nonconforming uses and the proposed zoning ordinance limits these uses to 15 years.

He pointed out that there is vacant commercial property in Daly City in which Mrs. Luna could locate.

Mrs. Luna said that she would operate the shop alone, and explained that she would provide only a service. No product would be sold, she added.

Commissioner Melvin Taylor said that under the proposed new zoning ordinance Mrs. Luna's shop would be allowed under "home occupation" but the permit for a nonconforming use would have to be denied.

The commission granted a use permit to Hector Montes of 151 Palmdale Avenue to construct a cover for his swimming pool.

The cover had been suggested by the city electrical inspector because of the pool's proximity to electric wires.

William Upp of the architectural committee of the Westlake Improvement Association said that the committee was concerned with many accessory buildings being constructed in Westlake and has been recommending denial of all such structures.

The commission approved the cover and instructed the city's building staff to contact Pacific Gas and Electric Company for a written statement regarding the necessity of the cover and any liability involved.

Coast Mulls Disputed Bid For Variance

The Pacifica City Council tonight will consider a controversial Planning Commission decision, recommending a variance for the construction of two houses on three substandard building sites.

The council has received letters from the Pedro Valley Improvement Association and four residents opposing the variance.

It is being sought by Dave Eolkin of 1262 Alicante Drive. He wants to resubdivide three lots on Sterling Avenue in San Pedro Terrace.

The Planning Commission recommended the variance, provided "the establishment of this resubdivision will be upgrading and improving the general lot pattern in the area."

In a letter to the council, Mrs. Kathryn Bouly of 368 San Pedro Avenue, points out that planners in prior years have denied this type of rezoning for the area.

She adds that official records show the three substandard lots were sold as one lot and consequently only one home should be allowed.

The improvement association points out that the Pacifica master plan for the area calls for a minimum of 5,000 square feet per home and that the proposed two homes would each have substantially less.

Other protesting residents are Howard D. Hoops of 210 Sterling Avenue, Frank E. Pedersen of 140 Sussex Way and Mr. Howard Edminister of 423 Belfast Avenue.

City Manager Karl A. Baldwin will report on a study being made concerning the best way to meet a pressing need for more space for the police department and for an emergency operating center.

Police Chief Neil Tremaine has submitted a report citing the Pacifica Nike site as the most reasonable location.

He points out that the Nike bunker is the only place that would be eligible for matching federal funds, that it has the best long range potential and that it offers the best protection for any city investment.

Alternate solutions studied include using the old Sharp Park telephone exchange building, constructing a police department atop the central fire station, or building a new building to include an emergency operating center, central fire station, and police headquarters.

Recommend Serramonte 10-Acre Park

A 10-acre level park site in the Serramonte development was recommended by the Daly City Recreation Commission last week.

The park site would be given to the city by Serramonte's developers, Suburban Realty Company, as part of an annexation agreement reached when the 1,000-acre area was incorporated into Daly City.

The commission also recommended a two-acre park site adjacent to a large reservoir in Serramonte—provided that four acres of land for recreation be obtained in the development north of the proposed extension of Hickey Boulevard, Recreation Director Charles Vincent said.

If the four-acre site north of Hickey cannot be purchased, the commission has recommended that the two-acre site be abandoned.

The selection of the 10-acre site is the result of a field trip to the area by the commissioners, Vincent said.

Long range plans for the park site would include a clubhouse, possibly a gym and several ball diamonds, he said.

Vote Fails To Rescind New By-law

cause of the requirement of a two-thirds vote, we are definitely encouraged because the overwhelming majority of the staff have shown they favor individual doctor evaluation."

William Rogers, executive secretary of the academy, noted that the San Francisco Medical Society had yet to complete a study on the issue and that when it did, the results might influence more doctors to vote against the new bylaw if an amendment to rescind it is proposed again next year.

The staff at Mary's Help will meet again in three months. Any amendment introduced at that time could not be voted upon until three months later at the staff's next quarterly session.

Rogers said he thought the chances of an amendment passing then would be good. "I really think that most doctors feel that it was unfair to have a hospital arbitrarily deciding for patients whom they should be getting surgical and obstetrical care from."

The new bylaw was approved last June by Mary's Help doctors by a 53-21 vote.

It was later described by Mary's Help officials as a provision that will help keep the hospital "in the mainstream of providing the best care possible."

The academy, however, countered with the assertion that the by-law would discourage young men from entering the field of general practice.

It also declared that each doctor should be judged on his merits and his experience, rather than on whether or not he has taken specialized training in a given field of medicine.

obligation to pay back the federal government," Polonsky said, "unless it decided to repay itself."

Then for every one dollar returned to the city, two dollars would have to be returned to the federal government, Polonsky said.

THE CITY'S PRESENT negotiations with Muni, Polonsky explained, will not deter Daly City's chances of getting the federal funds and the transportation committee plans to continue with the negotiations.

But the city wants to have all the facts before any final decision is made, he emphasized.

Chamber Hires Full-Time Aide

on a part-time basis. His contract is due to expire Tuesday.

Informed that the chamber had decided on a replacement, Gladieux commented:

"I haven't heard anything about it."

Whether Gladieux will be retained until January 1 will be discussed at a meeting of chamber directors tomorrow, Simmons said.

Last week, Gladieux declared he had not received a reprimand from the chamber and didn't expect one.

He also said that if he were offered the position of full-time manager, he would have to think about it.

Gladieux' future role with the chamber was cast in doubt after his statements about the John Birch Society and his opposition to the Oceana debate.

Oceana's debating team had accepted an invitation to portray the role of Red China at a model United Nations forum at UC.

Gladieux later revealed that he played a part in the distribution of a leaflet, opposing Oceana's participation.

During a television interview, he acknowledged this and added that he was a member of the John Birch Society. Last week, he defended his association with the society.

Overfield says he was first approached about the chamber "a couple of days" before Thanksgiving. He said he had several acquaintances in Pacifica.

He lives at the San Mateo address with his wife Jane, and their children John Jr., 12, Peter, 10 and Lisa Ann, four months.

sume a share of the new college district's bonded indebtedness, amount to $1,800,000.

This, he said, would give them a partnership in a college district that will own $33 million worth of solid assets, and would secure them $4 million worth of North Campus buildings, which must be built to house South San Francisco students.

Dr. Bortolazzo pleaded for an early decision so the college trustees can make room in their North Campus plans for the 850 to 1,000 South San Francisco students who can be expected within a few years.

The college president said it would cost the South San Francisco taxpayers $8 million to provide such facilities themselves.

His wooing was backed by the unveiled threat that if South San Francisco is not willing to assume its share of the cost of providing college faciliteies, he would recommend South San Francisco students be admitted to SM only after in-district scholars had been served.

He said special state legislation might be sought to permit such a priority system.

Dr. Bortolazzo told the South San Franciscans their tax-cost for junior college education is already 18 cents per $100 assessed valuation, and can rise within a few years to a figure higher than the state-limited CSM rate of 35 cents.

"If your rate was higher than ours," he said, "my trustees would probably not look with favor on such an annexation."

There is no state limit on non-district taxation to finance students attending junior colleges elsewhere he said.

into two apartment buildings on one parcel on Adobe Drive on the grounds it would create two parcels of land or a subdivision out of one parcel of property.

Councilmen agreed to construct a sidewalk on a vacant lot on West Manor Drive and charge the property owner, Mrs. Earl Wilsey, wife of the late developer of the area, for the work.

Jerry Miles, Kennedy Are 'Doing Fine'

Daly City Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy and Jefferson High School Board Trustee Dr. Jerry Miles yesterday were reported "doing satisfactorily" in recovering from major ailments in San Francisco hospitals.

Kennedy, who suffered a severe heart attack two weeks ago in his home, has been taken out of the intensive care unit at Children's Hospital and placed in a private room.

Doctors reported he is "coming along fine" but said it is hard to determine when he will be able to return to duty. He is a 35-year veteran with the Daly City Fire Department.

Miles underwent brain surgery November 27 at Fort Miley Hospital and is still in the intensive care unit there, hospital officials reported.

The school trustee and former president of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce will be confined to the hospital for an indefinitive period of time and may have to undergo further X-ray therapy treatment, doctors said.

sent the city with several jurisdictional problems.

Daly City has encouraged full streets because any street problems have usually been referred to the city, Hupf said, although the reasons or the means of correction have not.

Problems arise on such facets as paving, drainage installations and maintenance, police jurisdiction, traffic regulators, possible backyard utility pole requirements, uniform street size, and duplicated water lines, he pointed out.

County Engineer Donald Wilson told the commission he saw no conflict in two proposed annexations on its agenda — the Biscotti Annexation and the Kahle Annexation.

The areas are surrounded by Daly City on three sides. He said he felt the boundaries under discussion would not be permanent.

Wilson however, said that each piece of property should front on a street in its own municipality.

The back lot line preferably should be the annexation boundary line, he pointed out, so that the entire street would be in one jurisdiction.

Lacking that, he said, the boundary line should be in the center of the street.

Evans Is Appointed

Daly City Purchasing Officer Robert Evans has been appointed to the county Community Resource Committee — Glenwood by R. H. Sciaroni, chairman of the juvenile justice commission, and by Judge Frank W. Rose of Juvenile Court.

Evans is a volunteer leader in the Boy Scout movement and is president of the Daly City Toastmasters' Club and the Daly City Friends of the Library.

His duties will include helping to provide a community information program about the Glenwood Boys' Ranch and assisting in staff programming.

the firm of Stone and Youngberg of San Francisco. The bid was 3.97783 per cent for the bonds, which total $83,767.

The council called a hearing January 18 on an amendment to the city's zoning law that would prohibit residential properties from being developed in a planned commercial-manufacturing zone.

The amendment had been recommended by the Planning Commission.

Robert S. Webber, attorney for the Sunset International Oil Company, developers of the former Tanforan race track property, said his client would be "vitally affected" by the amendment and asked for time to work up a presentation on the proposal.

In other action, the council:

Closed a hearing and passed a resolution of "no majority protest" in the Solomon-Mabie annexation, incorporating the area into the city.

Awarded a $15,552 contract to Kennedy Electric for a fire alarm system, fire hydrants and facilities in South San Francisco Industrial Park.

Passed a resolution commending the South San Francisco Warriors football team and Coach Ray DeJong for completing an undefeated season in the North Peninsula League.

Held over approval of the final subdivision map of South San Francisco Industrial Park Unit 3B as submitted by Cabot, Cabot and Forbes Company.

A Big Hand For Mother— 3 of a Kind

Triplets—all girls — were born Monday morning at Peninsula Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Van Leeuwen, 304 Gardenside Avenue, South San Francisco. They were the first triplets in the hospital's 11-year history.

The first was born at 6:36 a.m. and weighed 4 pounds, 4 ounces. She was placed in an incubator, but was reported doing well.

The second was born at 7:10 a.m., and weighed 5 pounds, 4 ounces. The third, born at 7:17 a.m., weighed 5 pounds, 4 ounces.

Hospital aides said they all appeared healthy, and that the mother was in good health and spirits. The couple has four other children, two boys and two girls. He is an accountant for a San Francisco firm.

DEATHS

R.A. Richter, Westlake Decorator, Is Dead at 60

Rudolph A. Richter, well-known Bay Area interior decorator and owner of the Interiors by Richter store in the Westlake Shopping Center, died in his San Francisco home early Saturday morning of a heart attack. He was 60.

RUDOLPH A. RICHTER

His death followed closely that of his wife, Violet, who died September 12. The couple would have been married 30 years in March.

Richter had suffered a severe heart attack about 15 years ago and had been under a doctor's care ever since.

The Richters established their store in Westlake eight years ago and were among the center's first tenants.

Richter took an active role in the Westlake Merchant's Association, once serving as its president and later on its advertising committee.

He also took an active role in several civic and service clubs. He was a past president of the Daly City Rotary Club and only last Wednesday had participated in induction ceremonies for four new members.

He was a member of Occidental Lodge 22, F&AM; San Francisco Chapter 1 of the Royal Academy of Music; California Commandery 1, Knights Templar and a past patron of the Parnassus Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

A native of New York, he had lived at 1585 Thirty-fifth Avenue.

He is survived by three sisters, Dorothy Burk, Jeanette Wilson and Virginia Willett, and a brother, Herbert W. Richter.

Funeral services were conducted Monday by Chapel of the Sunset in San Francisco. Interment was at Olivet Memorial Park in Colma.

ROBERT C. GUDITUS

Funeral services were held Friday for Robert C. Guditus, 26, of 85 Citrus Avenue, Daly City, at the W. C. Lasswell Chapel. He died in South San Francisco.

Dennis Is Re-elected For 3 More

Daly City Councilman Edward J. Dennis Monday was re-elected president and business representative of the Milk Drivers and Dairy Employee's Union, Local 226.

He has held the position for the past 18 years. The term is for three years.

The local, affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters since 1903, has 1,300 members. Its jurisdiction covers all dairy employes in San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

The union has a record of no work stoppages during the past 61 years, Dennis said. All negotiated contracts are presented to the membership and acted on by secret ballot.

Dennis was re-elected without opposition.

Boy, Girl Caught Trying To Steal License Blanks

Two teen-agers Friday night were caught attempting to steal blank driver license forms from the Daly City office of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The pair, a 16-year-old Colma boy and a 16-year-old Daly City girl, told investigators they had intended to use the blanks to forge identification papers for themselves and had intended to sell the remainder to others.

The boy was remanded to juvenile authorities while the girl was cited and released in the custody of her parents.

The suspects were arrested shortly after Daly City Patrolman Richard Seguine noticed a broken window in the lower part of the front door of the motor vehicle office at 199 Southgate Avenue about 11 p.m.

Sequine radioed for assistance and together with Sgt. Matthew Murray and Patrolman Neil Hammermann, flushed out the boy.

The girl, who had fled when she noticed Seguine's patrol car approaching, gave herself up when she saw that officers had seized the boy.

The suspects told police they had seen a small hole in the office door earlier and decided to break into the building. The door opens onto Southgate, a main artery of the Westlake area of Daly City.

Freeway Aide Eyes Weather

Paving under the Paloma Bridge for the new Pacifica freeway is now under way and if all goes well, the entire four-lane freeway will be open in two or three weeks, Dino Casinelli, state highway engineer, announced this week.

"Our only enemy is the inevitable wet weather, but the contractor has his fingers crossed that the proposed Christmas deadline will be met," Casinelli said.

COMMENT

Let's Help Santa Claus

DALY CITY'S Yuletide version of a "united crusade" is now in full swing. "Operation Santa Claus" enters its 14th year as Daly City campaign to make Christmas merrier for needy families.

Like the United Crusade on a larger Bay Area-wide level, Daly City's "Operation Santa Claus" unifies all the volunteer efforts and gift-giving programs of all segments of the community into one centralized circumstances.

Last year alone, 22 fraternal, civic and religious groups, along with hundreds of individuals, pooled their time and resources to provide more than 100 abundant Christmas baskets.

THIS YEAR, as in past years, the children of the community will play an important part in "Operation Santa Claus." They'll ring doorbells to collect canned food that will ultimately become a part of each Christmas basket for the needy.

This phase of "Operation Santa Claus" is sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department through its playground program. The canned food youngsters gather will be collected at playgrounds and then turned over to the main drive. Last year, 7,000 cans of food were collected in this manner.

While prizes are given to playground teams collecting the most canned goods, program leaders say it's apparent that the children do not need this as a motivating factor. It's their chance to do something for someone else.

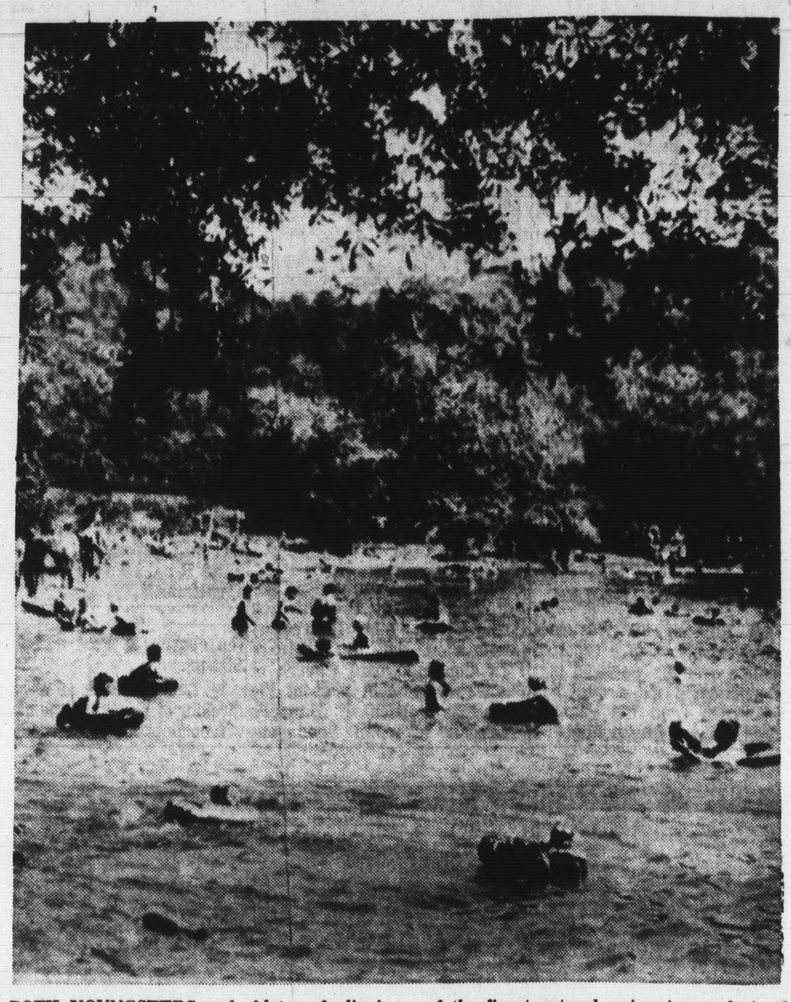
THE FACT THAT "O.S.C." is 14 years old speaks more than adequately for its success.

A program that can help bring a joyous Christmas to some 100 families that otherwise would face a rather bleak and hungry holiday needs no endorsement of support.

But as the program understandably gains momentum year after year, it continues to merit and need the additional participation of organizations and individuals. Donations of food, toys, clothing and cash are now being accepted.

Daly City residents are indeed fortunate to be offered an opportunity to assist "Santa Claus" in such a grand manner.

Frolicking in Pfeiffer



BOTH YOUNGSTERS and oldsters frolic in the million-year-old Big Sur River that rambles through Pfeifer Big Sur State Park—situated about 30 miles south of Monterey on the coast off Highway 1. The park has more than 200 campsites, lodge facilities, a restaurant and a grocery store. The swimming area in the river is considered one of the finest natural swimming pools in the state park system. The park also abounds in hiking trails, a raft of small animals and great stands of Redwood trees. This is another in a series of photos on historical areas and parks within a day's driving time of the North County.

The Season Of Good Will

Don Miller

THE CHRISTMAS holiday season, we think you'll readily agree, is a season of good will. Good will toward your fellow man, to be more specific.

An atmosphere of camaraderie pervades the crisp December air and the hellos and the goodbyes carry an extra ring of warmth and sincerity. Everyone —or almost everyone, it seems—somehow easily slips into a more relaxed and friendly state of mind.

Although the mortgage may be overdue and two of the kids are sick with the flu and everything is going wrong at the office and so on ad infinitum, these weighty woes don't get the best of us at this time of year.

Rather, they just sort of get shoved into the rear worry closet for due attention at another time.

This business of cheerfulness and good will has an extra avenue of expression in Daly City each December and judging from past history, this year's avenue traffic will be heavier than ever. Or should be.

We're thinking of "Operation Santa Claus," of course, the whys and wherefores of which are outlined in the lead editorial on this page.

Most of us are aware that "Operation Santa Claus" needs gifts of food, toys and cash and odds and ends that will help make Christmas a happy remembrance for some down-and-out family.

"We're not aware, however, of exactly where our gifts are going and just what dire circumstances may prevail in the apartments and flats to which "Operation Santa Claus" Christmas baskets are delivered.

This is as it should be. Pride is often the final reserve of a family at the end of its other resources and to drain that reserve by permitting the community at large to know all would contradict the very thing "Operation Santa Claus" sets out to do.

NONETHELESS, without being specific, we'd like to touch a bit today on some of the households this year's program will help.

One is a family of seven children and a mother. There is no father. For their's is a typical case where the father has either passed away or has deserted the home.

Aid to Needy Children helps sustain these seven kids throughout the year but does not provide any extras at Christmas time. There isn't any money left over for even the smallest toy. The mother needs all of the welfare she receives for her family to subsist at the minimum level.

She can't obtain employment because there wouldn't be anybody to take care of the kids. If she paid someone to watch her children, then, in effect, she would be working for nothing.

Another case concerns a family whose breadwinner is temporarily unemployed, Savings have carried the family through many months of job layoff but with Christmas at hand, the remaining savings cannot support a truly merry Christmas.

Still another case concerns a blind, mentally-retarded child. The family is hard pressed to provide constant care for the child but at Christmas, there is nothing left over to cheer the youngster.

Then, too, there is the old couple, barely getting by on Social Security. Like welfare Social Security doesn't provide the little extras of Christmas.

These, then, are the kind of people, the families and the situations that "Operation Santa Claus" is meant for each year. And as in past years, the success of that operation depends on just how much good will abounds in the community.

Need more be said at this point?

THAT SUPERMARKET bomb threat Daly City's finest wrestled with in the wee hours of Thanksgiving morning was the first reported in the environs since 1962 when a similar threat was directed at a Mission Street food outlet.

Like the Thanksgiving Day attempt, the 1962 version was also a dud, if you'll pardon the pun. Sgt. Thomas Culley, one of the officers on hand during this year's reprise, notes that the bomb-extortion gimmick is a time-honored stunt but one that rarely succeeds.

Usually, he points out, the intended victim finds the whole business too incredulous and calls for the cops. This was the case the other day over at the Mayfair Market at 2350 Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Dennis Eleen of 97 Pinehaven Drive, Daly City, was the clerk who took the phone call from the would-be extortionist. The caller told Eleen that if he walked away from the phone right then, the store would blow up.

Eleen cooly replied: "Okay, I'll meet you in 15 minutes," hung up the phone and called his boss who promptly notified police.

That's why when the same guy phoned again, Culley answered the phone.

ONE OF THE facets that made this year's version somewhat bizarre was the discovery later in the morning of a crude bomb device in a place that had been searched earlier—the underside of a bench next to a door of the market outside.

One theory is that the "bomber," having been rebuffed, wanted to leave the impression he wasn't bluffing about a bomb so that the next time he called, his threat would get results. So he returned after investigators had departed the scene and left the crude device where it could be found.

Regardless of what did happen, however, it all ended with the arrest of three young men after one of the most diligent of diligent investigations by Daly City and San Francisco police.

Which proves once again, you detective story buffs, that crime—and bomb threats—just don't pay.

North County Notebook

One Year at The Old Stand

Ron Bates

WHO WOULD have guessed a year ago that we (meaning the North County Notebook) would still be doing business at the same old typewriter stand.

This is the 53rd time we've sat down at a typewriter to bang out a column and you might say it's the start of another year.

A lot has happened in the past year since we first wrote about the birth rate in Daly City and the "Welcome Bayshore" luncheon.

We've gone from babies, to taxes, to topless bathing suits, to shopping centers, to taxes, to cemeteries, to unification, to taxes, to statistics, to boxes, to taxes and back to babies.

Also in that year, we became full-fledged Daly Citians and plunked down our savings on a home here, thereby intensifying our interests in taxes—and babies.

WHEN WE FIRST wrote that column on the birth rate, it was mostly in jest and from what had been told to us by the many people we come in contact with during our travels about the city.

A national magazine had written an article about Daly City, pointing out that it had one of the highest birth rates per capita in the nation.

Little did we know the truth of the matter until we moved into our new home.

We had seen the home mostly in the evening or at quiet times of the day. We didn't even have our furniture in when the parade of little people came to our door to ask if our oldest girl (2 years old) could come out to play.

Then when my wife began to know the neighbors better, we found out that just about everybody and her sister were expecting an addition to the family. Makes you think, doesn't it?

WRITING A COLUMN, we find, can be a lot of fun most of the time. One thing for sure, it can really provoke discussion at a city or social function or wherever we're just nosing around.

Here are some questions from some of those discussions and my replies, sometimes not spoken verbally, in parentheses:

Have you ever thought about doing a column on our project? (For project, substitute sale, dance, trip, club, P-TA, school, etc. etc. etc.)

Really this project would make a funny column. (Turn to Page 3 of The Post—What's Doing.)

Is that all you do? (No I also type What's Doing and A Look Inside. Sometimes I also number the pages.)

How do you find time to write your column? (I've given up the unnecessary things of life—like sleep.)

Do you ever run out of ideas? (Every week.)

How do you think up some of that stuff? (I go up to the city council chambers at midnight every Thursday night and stand on my head underneath the portrait of President Johnson.)

THE ATMOSPHERE IN which a column is written is also important to the finished product.

When I work on it during the day at our office in the Westlake Shopping Center, I am sometimes distracted by the housewives that walk by, doing their shopping while dressed in capri pants. This accounts for those columns that may seem disjointed.

After two years, I have formed some opinions about capri pants.

One is that not all women can wear capri pants. There is either too much seat in the slack or too much slack in the seat.

SERIOUSLY, I think if it weren't for the ideas and criticism, both constructive and destructive (to my ego) that I receive from the people who read North County Notebook, I would have given up writing a column a long time ago. Keep 'em coming.

Sometimes, I wonder if I should follow a saying by Confucius the Chinese philosopher that goes:

"It is better to remain silent and be thought a fool, than to open one's mouth and remove all doubt."

But then, how else does one catch flies?

The Marquee

Politics On Stage

Barbara Bladen

NOW THAT the voting machines are shrouded for a couple of nonpolitical winters and the razzle-dazzle campaigns have added up to fatigue and debts for one side, victory and responsibility for the other, it's like a big-time show has closed after a long, successful run.

Show people are by professional show-ofs. Any man who goes into politics knowing his life will always be open for public scrutiny has to be an egotist and extrovert. There's little difference in standing before a podium or a camera when it comes to selling personality. The band wagon is big and brassy and it attracts opportunists faster The one night stands during the final weeks of the campaign than a circus wagon attracts runaway kids.

have the same excitement as club and concert tours and are better suited to some personalities than a long playing date. The fast pace and pressures of public appearances before thousands of new faces bring out the "ham" in the best of men.

It's a wonder more theatrical people don't run for office. The built-in popularity factor would assure them automatic votes. In the case of movie actors, they could run their old films on late-hour television without running the risk of inciting equal time demands from their opponent.

George Murphy took a lot of behind-the-back ribbing about his theatrical background. Pierre Salinger's musicianship and close friendship with Hollywood and Broadway people came in for sarcasm, too.

BECAUSE SHOW people are special and even in these modern times considered circumspect as politicians we rather resent their indiscriminate participation for causes and candidates wthout having a strong personal conviction.

There have been recent instances where singers and comedians have appeared at political rallies and benefits without even knowing what party was represented. It's shameful to think an entertainer is supporting a candidate not because he believes in the man but because the pay is good.

In the case of presidential supporters, an appearance in his honor used to be in the nature of a command performance. It was a compliment, an honor. Now it means the entertainer has a smart business manager or press agent.

Dan Dailey remarked recently that he's one hoofer who'd never make the Senate. "I've had more wives than Murphy got votes." So it would seem an entertainer will make the ballot and the office if his personal record is clean, whatever his professional record.

That premise certainly eliminates a lot of people. The possibilities are still interesting, for instance, Henry Fonda versus Shelley Berman. Who could resist a president-vice president combination like John Wayne and Ronald Reagan. The Democrats would, that's for sure. The competiton for top billing would be interesting.

Peninsula Panorama

We'll Outguess The Computers

George Whitesell

AN EVER-GROWING topic of conversation on the Peninsula, heard almost everywhere from cocktail parties to more sober occasions, is the subject of automation, cybernetics, and computers that can perform all sorts of tasks with unerring efficiency.

Since the Peninsula is one of the great computer centers of the world, there are divided schools of thought on the subject.

Those who have had actual experience with some of the more sophisticated forms of automation are usually enthusiastic about what it has brought and will bring in the future. But a great many other people are frankly fearful.

When someone says, "Take it easy, Bud, you can always be replaced by a computer," they laugh, but inside their blood runs cold.

A COMPUTER expert told us that this is a totally irrational fear.

"Humans can never be replaced by computers and automation for the very simple reason that we are all highly automated computers ourselves," he said.

He went on to say: "The human body is the most complex and efficient example of automation existing. It is directed by the brain which, even in a child, is a computer that can never be equalled electronically or mechanically."

"We have to remember," he said," "that all automation, cybernetic applications, and computers in the nonhuman sense were designed by humans. The idea that we have created monsters that will destroy us is the most frantic kind o fiction."

MUCH OF the rest of what he had to say went back to the idea that humans, themselves, are highly automated.

He pointed out that we wake up auto matically in the morning after sleeping through the night with all breathing and all other bodily functions automatically controleld.

When we get in the shower the computer in our brain tells us when the temperature is right. It chooses our clothes for us and lets us tie our shoes without even looking at them.

One segment of the brain computer tells us that we are hungry. Another detects the aroma of breakfast and triggers the body to get out to the table and fuel up for the morning.

SOON THEREAFTER we are swallowing coffee and chewing toast. Simultaneously, we may be listening to the radio or reading a paper or both, all of this without specially conscious direction. The brain computer has taken over.

A conversation at the breakfast table is technically a conscious operation (some wives may disagree with this) but our reaction to the spoken words and what we may say calls upon thousands of memory cells located in the cranium.

If we conclude it is a good breakfast it is because the computer in the brain has compared it with a thousand other breakfasts and given us the verdict.

After breakfast your personal computer will tell you to go to work—reviewing in a millionth of a second all of the probabilities of what will happen if you don't. It happens so fast you don't notice it is going on.

IN MANY WAYS the brain computer is like an electronic computer that sits quietly humming and working.

It takes its signals from the five senses instead of from punched cards, perforated tape, magnetic tape and occasional manual operation.

It performs its chores without bothering you, but reacts to every change in signals ranging from a passing blonde to whispered gossip you were not intended to hear.

But where the human type is far superior to the electronic type is that it experiences emotions and feeling. It is capable of being sad or gay, of crying or laughing. And no one has yet invented a computer with a sense of humor.

"There is something inside the human machine, call it spirit, soul, or whatever you like," the computer expert said, "that mechanics and electronics will never match—and that is why they will never take over from the human world. There is nothing to fear, we will always outguess the best of them."

Daly City Librarian

"THE ISLAND RACE" illustrates once again that an impressive array of talents have met in the person of Sir Winston Churchill, who has just marked his ninetieth birthday.

While it is an abridgment of "A History of the English-Speaking Peoples," it opens to the reader Churchill's big view of British history.

He never fails to show the color and adventure that accompanied each event and each personality in the long story of England.

His style, even in this compression, is artistic and felicitous. No wonder he has been called one of Britain's most skilled writers.

TO ADD TO the enjoyment, the publishers have included hundreds of reproductions in color and monochrome of paintings, prints and even tapestries that illustrate the events in the country's history.

Some of these were created so many years ago they represent the only eyewitness record extant.

Especially valuable are the pictures of outstanding people. Some of the illustrations are a full page; all are sufficiently large to thoroughly depict the events.

HEREIN, however, lies a danger that comes from all picture books—to overlook the writing while looking at the pictures. Together, the words and illustrations make this abridgement acceptable and worthwhile.

Together, they beckon the reader to read the original history from the first page of the first volume to the last page of the last volume.

Coming as it does just before Christmas "The Island Race" would make a good gift to anyone who appreciates history and enjoys profusely illustrated books.

Center Study In Pacifica Progressing

Study of a proposed community center for Pacifica is progressing steadily with attention focused upon finding the best possible site, City Manager Karl Baldwin has noted.

Baldwin said the city's Community Center Committee has presented its initial study to the City Council but no action has been taken to date.

"This project is tied in with our five-year capital improvement program and a study of sites for a governmental civic center," Baldwin explained.

He added that the committee, headed by Derwood Bird of 1151 Peralta Road, is very much alive and functioning. It was appointed two years ago by the city council and the initial study was based upon a questionnaire circulated among Pacifica organizations to assess the need for a community building.

Supermarket Adds Outlet In Pacifica

Pacific Markets last week began operation of its third supermarket in the North County when it took over the former Super X Market in the Eureka Square Shopping Center in Pacifica.

Charles F. Dougherty, vice president of Pacific Markets, said that Ed Binkley, former manager at both the South San Francisco and Daly City supermarkets operated by Pacific, will manage the Eureka Square outlet.

Commenting on acquisition of the former Super X Market, Dougherty noted:

"The policies that have made Pacific Markets a success in this area will continue at our new Eureka Square store."

He said the policies included "the consistent quality of groceries, competitive prices and Green Stamps." And he added:

"The wonderful response given our Daly City and South San Francisco stores has spurred us to open a third store in this area."

Dougherty said that a grand opening celebration at the Eureka Square store will be held later.

If the client is pale-faded and feels he or she would be conspicuous among the natives inhabiting a winter beach resort, the agency offers a two-week tanning session via the lamp treatment at no extra cost. The ladies may wear bikinis during the tanning sessions.

Christmas has become a very hectic travel season in this age of jet transportation. The tourist today is offered a variety of tours to fit his time, budget and individual needs and tastes.

A package tour is a prearranged tour designed to fit the requirements of a wide variety of travelers and may be either escorted or unescorted.

The package is advertised in brochures that contain the cost, terms and conditions.

There should be a clear understanding between tour operator and the traveler what will happen should he cancel out, wish to stay longer or leave the tour earlier.

Provisions for last minute changes in his itinerary should be made both before leaving and en route. The amount of deposit required should be clearly understood.

AN ESCORTED tour involves the assistance of an experienced tour director who travels with the group and is responsible for maintaining the over-all schedule.

He is also responsible for hotel reservations, transportation, sightseeing, baggage, customs, language interpretation, etc.

The expenses are predetermined except for personal expenses incurred, such as shopping, tipping and optional activities.

Unescorted tours are more flexible. The traveler purchases a prearranged package that includes transportation, transfers, sightseeing, hotel accommodations and usually some meals.

The basic advantage of this type is that the traveler can budget most of his expenses in advance. There is no tour director.

The package tour is usually assembled by a wholesaler who has arranged for the tour, paid for the advertising costs, visited and signed contracts with various facilities and printed the brochure.

The travel agent receives his commission from the wholesaler whose charge is included in the advertised price.

Whether the traveler buys directly from the wholesaler or through the agent, the cost as printed in the brochure is the same.

Chicken in a Basket for 'Santa Claus Stop-Over'

If Bronze Stars are ever presented to restaurant people (and, believe me, they deserve 'em in this day and wage), one of my votes must go to Keith Williamson, who works in his Keith's Chicken and Steak House kitchen "Nevada style" (no clock on the wall). Keith has parlayed ... home made biscuits into a very successful business. He later successfully invaded the steak field, a very hard task, then added seafood to the menu, plus spaghetti with meat sauce, buttered French bread and all the trimmings. The only thing I haven't seen Keith do is flip a pizza—and knowing him as I do, it wouldn't surprise me if this was his next undertaking, with a banjo player added for atmosphere. Which brings me to the story finale: Keith's Wednesday evening comment was, "It's getting close to Christmas and folks who shop all day don't want to be bothered with cooking when they get home. So pass the word along that I am now serving an eat-in or take-out 'Chicken in the Basket' special. I'll even deliver within a certain area." He also mentioned that French fries, biscuits and honey are included with chicken orders—and all for just $1.10. With a low price like this, even Santa Claus should pull in his reindeer and snack up. The phone numbers to call are DI 2-7051 or DI 2-9101.

IT KEEPS THREE COOKS AND MAMA ROMANO going at top kitchen speed to prepare the Italian food and pizza demands at Enrico Romano's Pacifica restaurant. Food to go orders are on a par with the eat-in orders. Menu tip: T-Bone Steak a la Romano served with spaghetti and vegetable . . . Before-theater dining is an extra pleasure at the Brentwood Lodge, only minutes away from the entertainment sites. Jimmy Pederson entertains at the piano and organ Wednesday through Sunday . . . Every day is Christmas at the Redwood City Kings Table, the food and prices being such as they are here. The crowds resemble a New Year's Eve celebration . . . The St. Francis Hotel is planning a gala New Year's Eve party which will include a de luxe dinner, dancing to the music of Dick Reinhart and exciting party favors. Tab is $15 per person (including tax and cover charge) . . . There's no doubt that the "all you can eat" dinners are here to stay. The "King's Banquet" served in Club Shore Vu offers quality plus quantity. Serving both luncheon and dinner.

Mama Romano

A POSITIVE MUST: Visit Frank Torres' Montara Beach Hotel (bring the kiddies) for luncheon or dinner. See the beautiful hand-made holiday decorations, a yearly treat that you won't find in any other restaurant from coast to coast . . . "Bottoms Up," the zany and hilarious revue at the Chi Chi, ends tomorrow night. So run, don't walk, if you haven't gandered it as yet! . . . Caprice, one of the appealing peelers at the Moulin Rouge in S. F., will complete a four-year course in nursing early in 1965 at UCLA—IF she gets to leave the B'way girlie palace. Her revealing, along with Exotica and Jeani Monroe, is a large lure in the Broadway sector . . . The Board of Directors of the Data Processing Management Association held their monthly banquet-dinner-meeting at Rocea's, last Wednesday evening. Max Diamond, Bank of America Liaison officer, was in charge . . . The frosted glasses in which Pancho's Mexican Cafe serves milk (to children and grownups, alike) are most appealing . . . The Wednesday evening buffet at the Princeton Inn is back in full swing—which means you're in for a feast.

Frank Torres

EMIL MILLER, one of the Bay Area's top entertainers (or in any other area), is currently featured at the Southern restaurant in Redwood City, Thursday, Friday and Saturday . . . Victor's Rotisserie is one of my favorite stops in the Hillsdale Farmers' Market. Buffet or smorgasbord spread; all items are also packaged for take out . . . Brothers Delicatessen and Restaurant is now open Sundays—and doing right well in the breakfast, luncheon and dinner bracket . . . Bob Roberts' Earl's is one of the "musts" for holiday shoppers. His is one of the better known mid-town food and beverage oasis. . . . When it comes to prime rib, Ed's Chuck Wagons are in a "rare" class of their own. One visit here and you're a regular . . . Don't overlook the special luncheon menu at Nick's in Pacifica, served Monday through Friday for just $1.50. Includes soup, salad, entree and beverage, plus an unexcelled view of the blue Pacific. Evening entertainment at Nick's and the across-the-street Turtle is attracting big crowds.

Emil Miller

JOANNE AND NICK MANTZOROS (he's the chef at Vince's Italian and Sea Food restaurant and Joanne is one of the hostesses) are two of my favorite people. Every time I see Nick in the kitchen it reminds me of my first visit here. I ordered ham and eggs on a busy Saturday night. The look Nick gave me made me "fry" a little, but he prepared them to perfection. . . . The well known King's IV group returns to the Palo Alto Cabana December 8. The famous three with backing provide pantomime comedy without equal and always play to a house packed with many friends who have seen them here and on the Lake . . . Bert Turner, popular Peninsula beverage dispenser, is now working in Sacramento at the Rancho Villa for my good friend Sam Gordon. Bert will welcome a hello when you're up that way . . . The South San Francisco Holiday Inn is all set for the holidays—and so will you be if you select this plush site for your parties.

Vince Licata

At this writing, Scotty Campbell, who is as well-known as El Camino Real, is now probably sailing the seas of Mexico. Scotty Campbell's restaurant, located at 2907 El Camino, was recently purchased by Teresa and Bud Urban and Herman Gittelson—new names to the Peninsula, but not in the Middle West. Teresa and Bud own and operate one of the largest resorts in Wisconsin. Bud, a very personable gent with a knack for witty conversation, will assist on bar duties, while Teresa, a vivacious bundle of energy, will tend to the dining room management. Herman Gittelson is the owner of three prestige Chicago restaurants (The Embers on Walton Street, Little Embers on Dearborn, and The Embers Northwest), where, no doubt, many of you have already had the pleasure of dining. Scotty Campbell's restaurant policy, atmosphere and tradition of serving the best in food (steak and prime rib spotlighted) will be maintained. Iowa beef served exclusively. The new management, which took over last Friday, will operate under the seven days a week plan. Cocktails served from 4 p.m.; dinner from 5:30 p.m. Rosalie and the same Scotty Campbell's staff will welcome your evening reservations.

Villa Hotel Cocktail Hour

Donna, Esther, and Sheila are charming hostesses at the new Villa Hotel and will welcome you to the Bloody Mary Cocktail Lounge, where there's fun galore from opening to closing. Chef Wynn will see that an attractive array of complimentary hot and cold hors d'oeuvres are on hand between the hours of 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. P.S.: Drink prices have been revised, too.

Sil Oliva's right hand will take plenty of shaking, come the yearend. The Exposition Fish Grotto owner has more friends than a department store Santa Claus—and they all stop in for a "holiday salute."

Have known Frank Martinelli for 15 years, but never have I seen him in the role of chef—until last week, that is. Seems his two Steak Pits, the Chalet in Belmont and Martinelli's in Millbrae, are so busy, these evenings, that when Frank drops in for a head count he winds up in the broiler area.

Phil Rauscher is now celebrating his fifth year as manager of the International Inn Restaurant — and highly successful years they have been, too. Sectioned off banquet rooms await your holiday reservations. Mr. Rauscher will arrange special menus for special occasions.

When the Burlingame La Touraine opened its doors in 1962, the complete operation was handled by three people. Sort of resembled a relay race from kitchen to cash register. This week, I counted 11 heads tending to the culinary duties of the now well-established French restaurant.

Stand by for the opening date of the new Tiki Room in Villa Square. According to N. Y. Palmer, an announcement date should be forth coming in next Friday's Bright Lights.

Praise for Omar Khayyam's

Arno Raessler, a satrap in the advertising field, was a Thanksgiving diner at George Mardikian's Omar Khayyam's restaurant. His praise for the food, service and courtesy rendered by the employes was a welcome letter to my desk.

New Tivoli's Nick Finocchio has a special reservation book for each of his five banquet rooms. Right now they're all bulging with soon-to-be parties.

How about that seafood special that Ron Giannotti is offering at the Surf House! Steamed clams (bordelaise or drawn in butter), a tasty addition to the already-selective menu. Don't fail to drop in the "Top - o - the - Surf" cocktail lounge, ultimate for the smart set.

Big news from the Hyatt House, via Bright Lights, next Friday. General Manager Ed Sullivan has special holiday party plans.

Speaking of Christmas gifts (we were?), Lew Lehr's gold steak dinner gift certificates are popular with companies and individuals, alike. They make an unusual and ideal Yule gift.

Soler and Lorca, Sinaloa headliners, highlight their act by performing a Flamenco dance without music. The beat of their fast-moving feet is exciting and time perfect. They well deserve the many "oles" from the big audiences.

Special notice: Anyone having a San Mateo liquor license for sale, phone 591-1820 between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. The buyer will answer.

Black Bavarian-style draught beer from Holland, Denmark, Italy, France and etc. is the beverage feature at Me-n-Ed's Pizza Parlor in Pacifica Heights Plaza.

Diller and Van Dyke—Look Alikes

Finocchio's funnyman, J. J Van Dyke, made a big hit not only for himself, but the art of female impersonation in his appearance as guest star of Dick Stewart's popular TV show, last week. Although J. J. did no impersonating on the program, the audience got the whole idea of his art when Dick Stewart showed, in close-up, photographs of Van Dyke in makeup posing with Phyllis Diller as he looks when he gives his impression of her. In the pictures, they were so much look-alikes that it was difficult to determine who was who.

Friday luncheon suggestion: The Captain's Sea Plate of prawns, scallops, fish cakes, sauce New Orleans and zucchini Chateau at Phil Lehr's downtown Steakery.

Entertainment The Nevada Way

There was "turkey in the pot" for one of the Greyhound Bus passengers from San Francisco to Barney's Casino on Thanksgiving Day. A gent caught himself a solid one dollar and 10-cent eight spot for $25,000. Somehow that seems like a very small investment for that amount of money. But this comes under the heading of "Entertainment the Nevada Way."

By LE PACINI

NOW THAT the emotional furor has at least calmed somewhat, we feel it safe to say that no coast team more deserves a shot at the Rose Bowl than does Oregon State.

Going by the record, even the most rabid Southern Cal fan must admit this—once the tears have subsided their flow, that is.

Oregon State and the Trojans ended in a dead tie for the Pacific Eight title. And the rule has always been that in such an event, the team with the best overall record would hit the Rose trail. Oregon State had an 8-2 record, the Trojans 7-3. Another rule has been that, in case of a dead tie all around, the team last at the Bowl would be eliminated. And since the Trojans were there two years ago, they would have also lost out on that score.

Furthermore — and we do sympathize with early season USC injuries—the Trojans were murdered by the only two Big Ten teams they met during the season (Michigan State, 17-7) and Ohio State, 17-0), while Oregon State, in it's two tilts with Big Ten clubs, split—losing a season-opening toughie to a better prepared Northwestern, 7-3, and soundly whipping Indiana, 24-14.

And it can't be denied that USC blew a 13-0 lead against Washington in that important game, eventually losing, 14-13.

Sure& the Trojans knocked off Notre Dame, supposedly the best team in the nation, but also a team that blew a 17-0 halftime lead.

Don't forget, however, that Oregon State handed Sugar Bowl participant Syracuse it's worst beating of the season, 31-13. This victory came after the Big Orange had—after losing its season opener to Boston College by only a touchdown—been on a four-game winning streak during which it had averaged 33 points to its opponent's 7. This streak had included a 39-0 dumping of UCLA, which had been in the Pac-8 title running until late in the season.

While we agree that the Pacific Coast Colleges have always been involved in the most fouled up conferences in existence—from the Pacific Coast Conference through the Big Five days—we must also concur with fathers of hte conference in this case.

Oregon State is clearly—on the record—the best team on the coast.

If Southern California crybabies really want to do something about inequities, they should start a drive to pressure all Pac-8 teams to play each other at least once during a season.

This past season, Oregon State, USC, UCLA, Oregon, Cal, and Washington State each played only four conference games while Washington and Stanford played seven.

Therein lies the rub.

But as to the USC-Norte Dame matter, let's face the well-known fact in sports that on any given day, almost any team can come up with one supreme effort to whip a great team.

If we were to allow one-game performances to determine champions, there would then no longer be any need to play full schedules. A group of "experts" could get together, decide which rosters looked best on paper, and then hold the one game to determine a champ.

And it may be that all USC proved, after all, was that Notre Dame was just a little overrated to begin with.

ONE CONSOLATION for both the Trojans and the Irish, may lie in the knowledge that their players make good pros.

NFL rosters list 22 former Irish, more alumni than from any other college. Southern Cal is runner-up with 15 former Trojans playing in the NFL.

A CHIP OFF the old block is UCLA guard Russ Banducci who last week was named to the All-Coast squad.

At 5-11, 208, Russ is almost the picture, both physically and in terms of talent, of his father, Bruno, the great Stanford All-American and 49er All-Pro guard.

WE SEE the All-American selectors are back at making fools of themselves.

Rick Redman, Washington linebacker, has made every All-American squad we've seen. Yet at least one All-Conference selection relegated him to a second string mention.

Assuming that West Coast selectors have had greater opportunity to view Redman, we must also assume that, once again, a slightly undeserving athlete has made it on his name (he was All-American last year) on the habit and-or lethargy of eastern and midwestern selectors whose vision never crosses the Rockies.

WE HAVEN'T seen the final Northern California prep football statistics but the last time we looked, South City's Greg Jones was running around second in yards gained rushing, touchdowns scored and points scored—and, as we mentioned last week, all in what amounts to half a schedule because of Coach Ray DeJong's practice of having played Jones usually only half a game—pulling him when scores become lopsided.

THE SPORTING NEWS recently did an article on the great running combinations of pro football and in a survey covering 1950 to 1963, 49er combos were named eight times—more than any other team.

Joe Perry was mentioned in six of those tandems (he even made one listing with the Colts, when he teamed with Lenny Moore in 1961). Hugh McElhenny, along with Perry, was named on four of the top duos.

There have never been two men on one team who gained 1,000 yards in the same season but the 49ers might have made it in 1954 had not McElhenny been pounced on by the Bears at Kezar stadium and forced out for half a season.

That year, Perry gained 1,049 yards, McElhenny 515. And John Henry Johnson (that 1964 team was the only one named by the Sporting News featuring THREE runners as a top combo) ran for 681.

Perry and Johnson were the top two running backs in the league that year, while McElhenny was eighth, despite only half a season. Had Mac played the year out, the 49ers would have been the only team in the history of the NFL to boast the three top running backs in one season.

All of which brings us to a point: The 49ers never won a title but they were always close with top running. Now they have none at all.

Check current NFL statistics. You'll find that the top passing teams, in terms of yardage gained, are low (that includes the 49ers) while the top running teams are high.

The 49ers were right in drafting running backs this year.

3 SETS OF QUICK HANDS

Tigers 'Guard' Hope

Back Court Trio Could Be T.N. Key

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles on how basketball coaches in the North Peninsula League view the upcoming season and their appraisal of the strengths and weaknesses of their clubs.)

By RON BATES

TERRA NOVA'S hopes for a high standing in the North Peninsula Basketball League this season rest with at least three sets of quick hands—those of coach Rich Burt's three top guards.

The Tiger coach said the team's strongest point this year will be in depth at the guard position.

He has three guards of equal ability that he will alternate while the Tigers play a fast and aggressively defensive game. They are veteran Hank Dagenais, Stan Obney and Mike Duerloo.

These guards, and the return of first string veterans Rich Schafer and Jack Bresnahan, should make the Tigers a team to be reckoned with.

DAGENAIS narrowly missed the all-league team selections made by coaches last year. He was the Tigers' second top scorer, behind Jim Smith, and was tenth in the league with an 11.1 point average.

The jump-shot artist is an "explosive-type" player that could provide the spark to break up a game, Burt said.

"When he gets hot," the coach explained, "he blisters the nets."

Dagenais is always a scoring threat and will probably wind up as one of the top scorers in the league, Burt added.

Bresnahan, Terra Nova's playmaker last year, will be shifted to forward this season to give the Tigers some height and the heir to the playmaker role is probably Obney, Burt said, a guard up from the B-team.

THE THIRD SET of hands belong to Duerloo and they were fast enough to win him a slot on the lightweight all-league team last year.

All three guards play a lot alike, Burt noted. They move well and are good shooters.

Also at guard and slated to see action is Don Damon.

The center slot is pretty well "sewed up" by Schafer, a two-year veteran for the Tigers, Burt said.

The 6-4 starter has muscle to go with his height and is expected to carry the bulk of the Tigers' rebounding chores this season.

Schafer averaged 13 to 14 rebounds a game last year and he seems stronger this year, Burt said.

All-leaguer Marty Coil, who is playing for San Francisco State College, will be missed on the boards, Burt said.

"One man (Schafer) can't do it all by himself," he noted, "and in order to play a fast game you have to get the rebounds.

BACKING UP SCHAFER at center will be 6-3 sophomore Mike Ward.

At the forward slot will be Bresnahan, the veteran guard in a new role.

A six-footer, he is the type player who can play any position, Burt said. He was moved to the forward slot because of the team's depth at guard.

Although he gives up his playmaking role, he still should be a "steadying influence" on the team, Burt noted. He was recently elected captain.

Besides Bresnahan, the leading contenders at forward are Terry Walker and Bob Marr, a 6-4 transfer student from Livermore. Also trying for starting roles at forward are Kevin Pierce and Rich Zimmer.

Sophomores who may work their way up are Dave Sommers, Doug Newton and Jim mers, Doug Newton and Jim Waffen.

BURT PUTS WESTMOOR and South San Francisco a class by themselves insofar as the rest of the league goes.

"But I think we can get on the court with them and give them a fight," he said.

Terra Nova will play host to the annual league tournament in January and Burt said he will be able to better judge the teams then. The Tigers open the regular season by hosting the Warriors January 15.

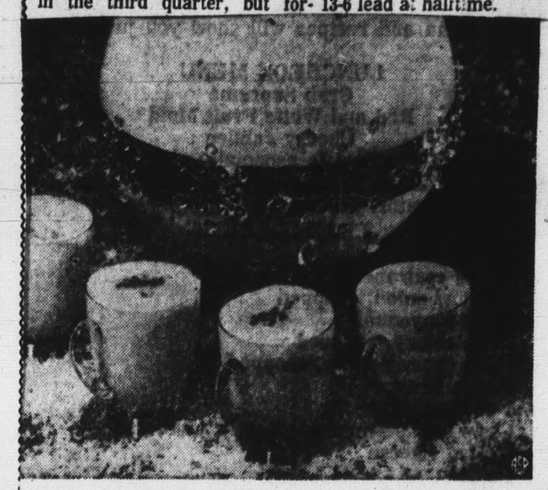
Sharks Bow to Terra Linda

Oceana's Bob Folger pumped in 12 points in a losing effort last week as the Sharks bowed to Terra Linda, 64-47, in their first practice game of the basketball season.

The Sharks had pulled to within six points of Terra Linda in the third quarter, but forward Bill Wipprecht fouled out and the loss of the veteran blunted the rally.

Wipprecht, John Perry and Doug Rhodes contributed six points each to the Shark cause.

Coach Frank Lawler's B-team lost, 29-20, after holding a 13-6 lead at halftime.



Gather your friends and relatives 'round the punch bowl for cup of good cheer — and good conversation. A refreshing unch and a gaily decorated bowl are the basic ingredients for hy Yuletide party.

Brighten the punch bowl by attaching a bright red ribbon and ittering plastic "snowflakes" to the outside. Place in a setting artificial "snow" and pine boughs.

For the inside of the bowl, prepare an easy punch of apple- uce, cream, lemonade concentrate and sherbet made effer- scent with the addition of sparkling 7-Up. It's light, smooth d delicious!

Snowflake Apple Punch

- 2 cups applesauce
- 1 pint light cream
- 1 can (6 ounce) frozen lemonade concentrate, thawed
- 1 pint lemon sherbet
- 6 bottles (7 ounces each) 7-Up, chilled
- Nutmeg

Combine applesauce and cream in punch bowl. Slowly stir in monade concentrate. Add scoops of sherbet. Slowly add 7-Up. prinkle with nutmeg, if desired. Makes about 24 (4 ounce) rvings.

ips firmly packed light brown sugar
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon light or dark corn syrup
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts or pecans

In a saucepan stir together the brown sugar, milk, butter, corn syrup and salt. Cook and stir constantly over medium heat until mixture boils. Continue cooking, stirring occasionally, until temperature reaches 238 degrees on a candy thermometer or until about ½ teaspoon of the mixture dropped into about ¾ cup very cold water forms a soft ball that flattens on removal from water. Remove from heat; cool to lukewarm (110 degrees). Add vanilla. Beat until mixture holds its shape when dropped from a spoon and loses its gloss—this takes considerable beating. Quickly stir in nuts. Pour at once into a buttered square cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches). Cool, cut into 1-inch squares and remove with a small spatula, or turn out candy from pan and cut into squares. Makes 64 squares.

Jones Shifts Scoring to The Hoop as S.S.F. Wins

South San Francisco's Greg Jones is picking up in basketball where he left off during the high school football season.

Jones scored 31 points Friday night in leading South S.F. to a 73-71 victory over San Mateo in the season's opening basketball contest for both teams.

Jones hit on nine out of nine free throw attempts and scored 17 points in the final two periods to lead the Warriors back from a 26-27 halftime deficit.

San Mateo, still hampered by football muscles and defensive problems, got a 19-point scoring effort from center Travis Hart, who seemed fully recovered from the knee injury that sidelined him at the end of last season.

The Bearcats out-rebounded their hosts, 51-35, but hit on only 34 per cent of their shots, compared to 43 per cent for South S.F.

The college would like the opportunity to house these post graduate students, all of whom are leaders in their own countries, in American homes during their stay. It is hoped that they may enjoy the experience of living with typical American families during the observances of the Christmas holiday.

Also needed are invitations to Christmas dinners for state students who will have no way of being with their own families during the holidays. If you would like to take part in a hospitality program, give your invitation through the College "Y" secretary, Connie Dubner, JU 4-2300, at least one week in advance.

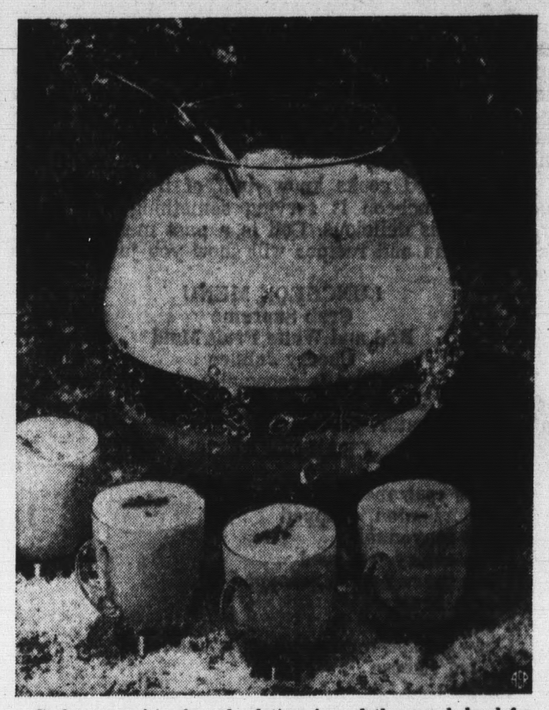
Gather Friends For Hospitality



Gather your friends and relatives 'round the punch bowl for a cup of good cheer — and good conversation. A refreshing punch and a gaily decorated bowl are the basic ingredients for any Yuletide party.

Brighten the punch bowl by attaching a bright red ribbon and glittering plastic "snowflakes" to the outside. Place in a setting of artificial "snow" and pine boughs.

For the inside of the bowl, prepare an easy punch of applesauce, cream, lemonade concentrate and sherbet made effervescent with the addition of sparkling 7-Up. It's light, smooth and delicious!

Snowflake Apple Punch

2 cups applesauce
1 pint light cream
1 can (6 ounce) frozen lemonade concentrate, thawed
1 pint lemon sherbet
6 bottles (7 ounces each) 7-Up, chilled
Nutmeg

Combine applesauce and cream in punch bowl. Slowly stir in lemonade concentrate. Add scoops of sherbet. Slowly add 7-Up. Sprinkle with nutmeg, if desired. Makes about 24 (4 ounce) servings.

Spell Eight Ways, Taste It Once

A wonderful fudge is misspelled eight different ways: According to Webster, the word is panocha. According to cooks, it's panoche, panochi, penucha, penuche, penuchi, pinocha, pinoche or pinochi. Actually the term panocha means a Mexican raw sugar or a sweetmeat.

If you like the beguiling flavor of brown sugar, this candy is for you. Originally the fudge was made with brown sugar, butter and cream, but nowadays we are inclined to add a little corn syrup to help achieve satin-smooth texture.

This is a great candy to have in the house or to give as a gift—at holiday time or to a youngster away at school. For gift-giving, you might like to turn the fudge into one large or several small aluminum foil pans so you can offer it intact. The receivers will be happy to do their own slicing.

When I was young, one of my sisters was a great panocha-maker. Sometimes she would give the candy a second layer of chocolate fudge! If you are in the mood to improvise, you might like to try this.

Panocha is often made without nuts, but we like to include them to offset the sweet flavor.

PANOCHA

3 cups firmly packed light brown sugar
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon light or dark corn syrup
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts or pecans

In a saucepan stir together the brown sugar, milk, butter, corn syrup and salt. Cook and stir constantly over medium heat until mixture boils. Continue cooking, stirring occasionally, until temperature reaches 238 degrees on a candy thermometer or until about ½ teaspoon of the mixture dropped into about ¾ cup very cold water forms a soft ball that flattens on removal from water. Remove from heat; cool to lukewarm (110 degrees). Add vanilla. Beat until mixture holds its shape when dropped from a spoon and loses its gloss—this takes considerable beating. Quickly stir in nuts. Pour at once into a buttered square cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches). Cool, cut into 1-inch squares and remove with a small spatula, or turn out candy from pan and cut into squares. Makes 64 squares.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

ALONG WITH our Christmas buying and wrapping, making and baking, writing and mailing, we also do quite a bit of wining and dining. If your holiday plans include a luncheon, I'd like to pass along the menu and recipes from the last meeting of The GG's at the home of Mrs. Ceil Collin, of 1674 Thirty-second Avenue, San Francisco.

As all good cooks know, half of the giving of a successful luncheon is serving something that is as pretty as it is delicious. Ceil is a past master at this and the menu and recipes will show you just how she does it.

LUNCHEON MENU
Crab Supreme
Red and White Fruit Mold
Cherry Jubilee

The crab supreme is especially nice for luncheons because you make it the night before and let it stand in the refrigerator.

CRAB SUPREME

8 slices bread
2 cups crab meat
1 yellow onion, chopped
½ cup mayonnaise
1 cup celery, chopped
½ cup green pepper, chopped
4 eggs beaten
3 cups milk
1 cup canned mushroom soup, undiluted
Grated Cheese
Paprika

Cook celery slowly 10 minutes in a little water. Drain. Dice half the bread into a baking dish. Mix crab, onion, mayonnaise, pepper and celery and spread over bread. Dice other slices of bread and place over crab mixture. Mix eggs and milk together and pour over dish. Cover and place in refrigerator over night.

Bake for 15 minutes at 325 degrees. Remove from oven and spoon soup over the top. Sprinkle with cheese and paprika. Bake one hour more or until golden. This serves eight generously.

ALONG WITH the crab supreme, Ceil served rolls and this salad. Molded salads are good for luncheons for they, too, can be made ahead and forgotten until time to serve. Thus eliminating that rushing around in the kitchen while your guests are sitting in the living room wondering what ever happened to their hostess.

RED AND WHITE FRUIT MOLD

1 pound can (2 cups) of fruit cocktail
1 pkg. raspberry or strawberry gelatin

Drain fruit, saving syrup. Add water to syrup to make two cups; heat one cup to boiling, add gelatin and stir to dissolve. Add remaining syrup. Pour equal amounts into individual molds or a 6½ or 7-cup mold.

1 pkg. lemon gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 can frozen lemonade concentrate (6 oz.)
½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

While the first part of the salad is setting to firm, make this second part. Dissolve lemon gelatin in hot water and add lemonade concentrate. Blend in mayonnaise. Chill until partially set. Fold in the drained fruit. Pour over the firm red jell-o and chill overnight. Makes 9 to 12 servings.

LAST BUT most certainly not least, came the dessert. So pretty, so delicious and—so easy to make.

CHERRY JUBILEE

1 stick oleomargarine
1½ cup powdered sugar
2 eggs

Mix, adding one egg at a time. Beat five minutes.

½ pound vanilla wafer crumbs
Keep a quarter cup for the top)
1 pkg. dream whip (small box)
1 can prepared cherry pie filling

Line 8x12-inch dish with wafer crumbs. (First butter it lightly so the crumbs will hold.) Carefully spread the creamed eggs, powdered sugar and margarine over the top. Next, add a layer of cherry pie filling. Then spread the Dream Whip on top and sprinkle with crumbs. Chill.

NEXT WEEK we are going to talk about Christmas cookies and candies and all sorts of good things to make the holiday brighter.

Louanne's Datebook

By LOUANNE HEATH

IT HAS BEEN A busy week for members of the Daly City Community Chrous and their evergrowing fan club.

Beginning with Sunday's appearance on station KPIX and continuing through Friday night's winter concert, the vocal ensemble has adhered to an extremely demanding schedule of appearances and rehearsals. Though the TV performance was pre-taped late last month, there has been little let-up for chorus members so far as rehearsals have been concerned!

Director Patti Stolz explains the hard work has won for the chorus a reputation as a group of musical significance and, after two years together as a growing organization, it is more important than ever that this year's appearances be bigger and better than ever.

For those who haven't as yet heard the group, the winter concert at 8 Friday evening will offer an excellent opportunity for residents to hear many of the chorus' outstanding selections and also to hear a group of special pieces performed by the Belle-Tones. A variety of solos, show tunes, folk music and some Christmas favorites will be sung.

The program will be presented in the War Memorial Community Center and members of the Daly City Recreation Commission will serve refreshments after the program in the Coral Room.

Though a career, a family and the community chorus should be enough to keep the average woman more than busy, Mrs. Stolz continues to find opportunities to expand her activities. Amid rehearsals and the usual holidav activities, she managed to find time to take part in Congregation B'nai Emunah's fifteenth anniversary celebration and Chanukah Ball in the Fairmont Hotel. Mrs. Stolz and tenor George Bellah sang a medley of melodies from operetttas and Broadway musicals.

MRS. JAMES MADDEN was the hostess at a surprise birthday supper honoring her husband.

Westlake guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrance Rogers who joined with family friends from the East Bay in celebrating Madden's birthday.

Incidentally, Madden, who is an iguana fancier, is still conducting a daily search for dandelion greens for a growing family of lizards. Two iguanas now reside in his San Francisco office and both of them have insatiable appetites for dandelion greens and blossoms.

MEMBERS OF the San Mateo YWCA will tour the new Temple Judea on Brotherhood Way this afternoon as a part of the program to acquaint members with the three new houses of worship on the short thoroughfare that connects Lake Merced Boulevard with Alemany.

Rabbi Herbert Morris will conduct the tour and will speak on the traditional observances of Chanukah, The Festival of Lights.

Between December 17 and January 3, the dormitories at San Francisco State College will be overloaded because of the arrival of 12 teachers from Liberia and 36 teachers from a number of other countries.

The college would like the opportunity to house these post graduate students, all of whom are leaders in their own countries, in American homes during their stay. It is hoped that they may enjoy the experience of living with typical American families during the observances of the Christmas holiday.

Also needed are invitations to Christmas dinners for state students who will have no way of being with their own families during the holidays. If you would like to take part in a hospitality program, give your invitation through the College "Y" secretary, Connie Dubner, JU 4-2300, at least one week in advance.

MRS. DOLORIS FAZZIO, Mrs. Helen Crosby and Mrs. Jean Silverman will help hostess Mrs. Wilma Burton entertain the members of the Pacific Federated Women's Club Tuesday.

About 50 members are expected to attend the annual Christmas gathering and take part in the gift exchange, Mrs. Silverman said.

Members of the group toured Temple Judea last week and attended worship services with the congregation of the temple.

Next major event on their activities calendar will be a Christmas party and dance to be held at the church December 20. According to Mr. and Mrs. James Boyden, fellowship sponsors, the senior high members will trim the church Christmas tree, sing carols and enjoy refreshments.

MRS. MELVIN LOOS, Mrs. Dan McNulty and Mrs. Douglas Galten will become members of the Tau Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority during a pledge ritual in the home of Mrs. Dean Gatton next week.

Mrs. Harry Warren, Mrs. Kent Wilby and Mrs. Phillip Crane will assist auction chairman Mrs. Jack Starks with the evening's arrangements.

A special presentation of "Winnie the Pooh" by the White Oaks Players of Carmel has been arranged by Children's Theatre Cnairman Mrs. Wilby. The play will be staged twice February 13 in the Vallemar School Multi-Use Room.

over bread. Dice ... crab mixture. Mix eggs and ... over dish. Cover and place in refrigerator over night.

Bake for 15 minutes at 325 degrees. Remove from oven and spoon soup over the top. Sprinkle with cheese and paprika. Bake one hour more or until golden. This serves eight generously.

ALONG WITH the crab supreme, Ceil served rolls and this salad. Molded salads are good for luncheons for they, too, can be made ahead and forgotten until time to serve. Thus eliminating that rushing around in the kitchen while your guests are sitting in the living room wondering what ever happened to their hostess.

RED AND WHITE FRUIT MOLD

1 pound can (2 cups) of fruit cocktail
1 pkg. raspberry or strawberry gelatin

Drain fruit, saving syrup. Add water to syrup to make two cups; heat one cup to boiling, add gelatin and stir to dissolve. Add remaining syrup. Pour equal amounts into individual molds or a 6½ or 7-cup mold.

1 pkg. lemon gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 can frozen lemonade concentrate (6 oz.)
½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

While the first part of the salad is setting to firm, make this second part. Dissolve lemon gelatin in hot water and add lemonade concentrate. Blend in mayonnaise. Chill until partially set. Fold in the drained fruit. Pour over the firm red jell-o and chill overnight. Makes 9 to 12 servings.

LAST BUT most certainly not least, came the dessert. So pretty, so delicious and—so easy to make.

CHERRY JUBILEE

1 stick oleomargarine
1½ cup powdered sugar
2 eggs

Mix, adding one egg at a time. Beat five minutes.

½ pound vanilla wafer crumbs
Keep a quarter cup for the top)
1 pkg. dream whip (small box)
1 can prepared cherry pie filling

Line 8x12-inch dish with wafer crumbs. (First butter it lightly so the crumbs will hold.) Carefully spread the creamed eggs, powdered sugar and margarine over the top. Next, add a layer of cherry pie filling. Then spread the Dream Whip on top and sprinkle with crumbs. Chill.

NEXT WEEK we are going to talk about Christmas cookies and candies and all sorts of good things to make the holiday brighter.

Reindeer Readied

DONNA STARR of 1510 Crespi Drive, Pacifica, is all concentration as she works on a reindeer head she'll use as a Christmas decoration on a mantle in her home. She was one of a large crowd of Pacificans who turned out over the weekend for the seventh annual Christmas Do-It-Yourself Show, sponsored by the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department. The show was held in the multi-use room of Sharp Park School. (Post-Times Photo)

Dental Assistants Schedule Potluck

Members of the San Mateo County Dental Assisting Association will donate gifts to a local hospital when they hold a potluck dinner and Christmas party at the Dental Society Building in San Mateo next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Reservations may be made by calling Linda Guisti at 583-7836 after 6 p.m.

recent meeting of the Women's Club of Buri Buri.

The club held its Christmas dinner Saturday at Bertolucci's Restaurant in South San Francisco.

A special program will be held on January 29, according to ways and means chairman Mrs. Howard Hinman, in the social hall of Buri Buri Methodist Church.

Special films will be shown on the Hearst Castle at San Simeon, narrated by Mrs. William David, formerly employed there. A donation of 35 cents will be required. Information or reservations may be obtained by Mrs. Wade Hendricks.

Mrs. William Bush and Mrs. Alastair Finlayson were delegates at the Golden Gate District's dinner recently in honor of federation president Mrs. William Hasebrook.

Sisterhood Plans Pre-Rummage Sale

A pre-rummage sale, featuring all new merchandise donated by merchants of Daly City, will be held at an open board meeting of the Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel Monday evening at the home of chairman Mrs. Ed Sennett of 245 Mariposa Drive, Daly City.

A short business meeting is planned before members of the sisterhood and friends make their selections.

The regular rummage sale will be held at the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park on January 25 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Persons wishing to donate clothes or household items may contact Mrs. Sennett at PL 5-3042. Proceeds of the sale will furnish the kitchen of the congregation's new synagogue on Annie Street in Colma.

Y-Wives to 'Adopt' Needy D.C. Family

The San Mateo County Y-Wives have "adopted" a needy family with eight children for the holiday season and members will be bringing toys, clothing, food, Christmas wrappings and ornaments for a tree tomorrow when they meet in the fellowship room of St. Martin's Episcopal Church at 10 a.m.

The Y-Wives meet every Thursday at the church.

Coast Parents' Hopes on Kindergarten Rise

Extended Program Still Objective As Laguna Adopts Policy Addition

By MARILYN BRANNAN

PARENTS IN the Laguna Salada School District who have been working for more than a year to have an extended kindergarten program adopted were somewhat more optimistic this week.

They were pleasantly surprised when the district's board of trustees voted to change its kindergarten policy somewhat—in effect, giving it flexibility.

On the motion of Trustee Dr. Rodney Clark, the board added this statement to the policy.

"The fulfillment of . . . goals for each child will be accomplished through a variety of means, depending on the degree of past experiences and achievement of the particular child.

"All children need to develop these understandings to the best of their abilities before entering first grade.

"They should be encouraged to use and develop skills in any and all ways meaningful to their individual stage of growth.

"Teachers are expected to recognize and further stimulate the children in reading and other academic skills."

MRS. CHARLES S. OLSEN of 1483 Crespi Drive, spokesman for a parent study group that favors extending the kindergarten curriculum to include reading instruction, said the parents have circulated a petition requesting the administration to set up an experimental program.

"We want the board to set up a pilot study patterned after the academically enriched kindergarten programs in the Millbrae and Richmond districts," Mrs. Olsen explained.

She said that because the petition was not on the board's agenda for its last meeting, parents could not present it to the trustees.

"However," Mrs. Olsen said optimistically, "Mrs. Ruth Budinot, chairman of the board, said that we should first see how the kindergarten program proceeds in light of the new goals that have been set, and then the petition perhaps should be considered."

She added that parents also were encouraged by a statement by Trustee William Henderson that although goals are fine, he would like to have another study session soon to see how the program is actually implemented.

"He told us that the board was not closing the matter but would keep looking ahead, and he encouraged us to keep coming forward with our suggestions and to continue with our study," Mrs. Olsen reported.

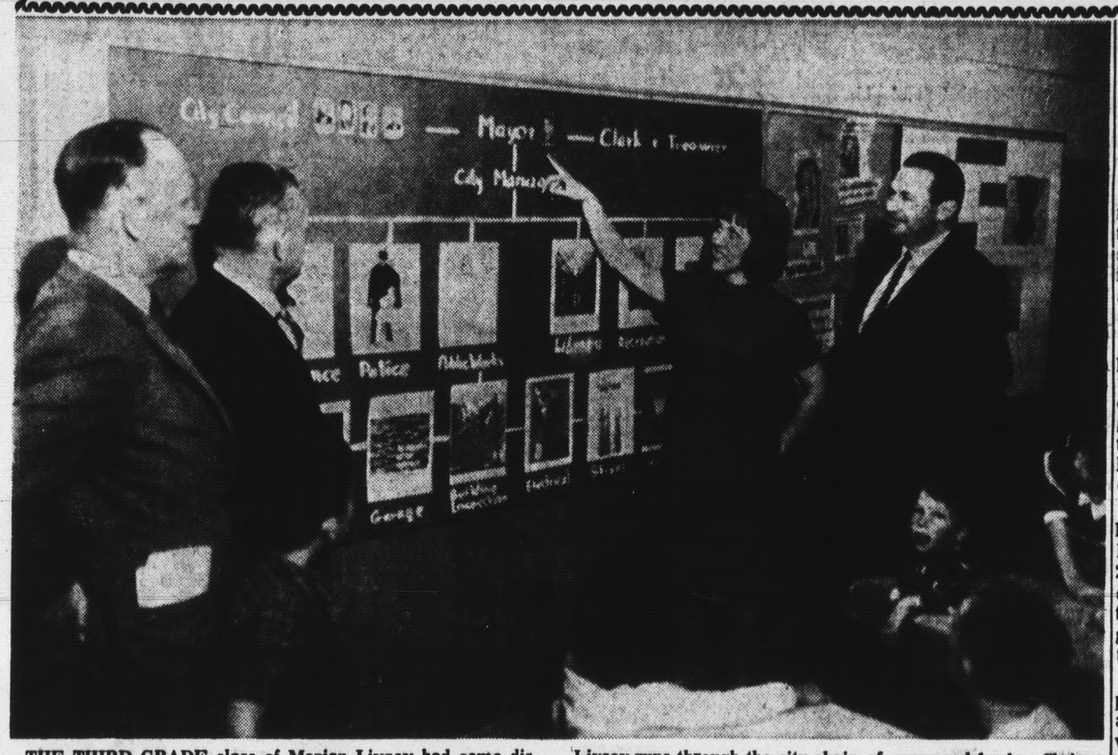
Parents have been encouraged because, she claimed, it was the first time the board had shown any real interest in the implementation of the program and not just in the goals. And she added:

"The policy statement is a little ambiguous but the word 'reading' is in the written policy and there is a definite clause for introducing the child to the academic."

THE GROUP CONDUCTED an intensive study of progressive kindergarten programs in the Millbrae and Richmond districts. The study was compiled into a report and presented to the Laguna trustees.

Last July, parents re-stated their case before the board but when the trustees declined to act but, instead, asked the parents to wait until fall when teachers and administrators could formulate a policy on kindergarten curriculum.

The district's present policy advocates exposing kindergarten children to varied experiences to prepare them for reading while leaving formalized reading instruction until the first grade.



THE THIRD GRADE class of Marian Livsey had some distinguished lecturers for a session on municipal government recently. Third Youth Arrested in Bomb Threat

Daly City police Friday arrested a third youth in connection with a threat to blow up a supermarket early Thanksgiving Day morning unless the store's receipts were taken to a nearby rendezvous.

Arrested was Michael A. Gaspar, 18, of San Francisco. He was charged with conspiracy to commit armed robbery. Investigators said he had been asked to appear at Daly City Police Headquarters and had surrendered voluntarily.

The two other youths, Larry Lee Hall, 23, 424 Pacific Avenue, Pacifica, and Robert C. Harper, 21, of San Francisco, have been charged with conspiracy, attempted robbery, attempted grand theft and attempted extortion.

The bomb threat was telephoned to the Mayfair Market at 2350 Junipero Serra Boulevard about 12:40 a.m. Thanksgiving Day.

A clerk then phoned police who searched the store with negative results.

D.C. Rotary Inducts Four

Four new members were inducted into the Daly City Rotary Club at the club's weekly Wednesday luncheon last week in the Friar Room of Serra Bowl.

Julian Cohn presided over the induction ceremonies. He was assisted by Don Davis, U. R. Kendree and the late Rudolph Richter.

The new members are Stanley H. Cohen of the Westlake Medical Laboratory; Clarence Pughe of the Westlake Launderette; Albert A. Polonsky, lawyer and Daly City councilman, and Solly Orloff of Seymour's of Westlake.

Germany Rich In New Projects

What's going on in Germany? The Post and Times has just received a German tourist information release that indicates a little more about the way of life in this fully recovered country a bit more than news wire releases might show. Here's a sample.

Trier's Grand Hotel Martinskloster will convert a former Benedictine abbey into a top-ranking hostelry. The 17th century convent building on a bank of the Moselle will comprise a restaurant, banquet facilities and ballroom. A 100-bed hotel will be constructed in the former monastery gardens; each room will have a private balcony and bath.

Oberammergau, in the Bavarian Alps, will offer six-day courses at the new ski school there. Courses for children, beginners and advanced skiers will be held in German, French and English.

A special "Ski Weekend in Oberammergau" is also available. It features dinner on the day of arrival, one night's accommodation, breakfast and lunch the following day, lessons and pass. Oberammergau is notable for its Passion Play, held once every 10 years.

Underground Garage

An underground garage providing parking space for 440 cars was recently completed in Munich. Situated beneath Max-Joseph-Platz in front of the State Opera, it has direct access to the theatre.

Garmisch - Partenkirchen's skating arena, the Eispalast, has been roofed at a cost of over a million and one-half dollars. For over 30 years the scene of ice shows, hockey matches, and inernational competitions, the palace now offers shelter to both the performers and an audience of 12,000.

Cologne's newest beer garden, the "Wirtshaus im Spessart," features a unique underground canal. Steps from the inn lead visitors down to an ancient Roman passageway that runs under some of Cologne's heaviest traffic.

The Transport Museum in Nuremberg has recently unveiled a new scale model of the famous Black Forest Railway. The 400 square foot miniature represents the section between Hornberg and Sommergau, which features the largest number of bends, turns, tunnels and steep grades in Germany. The model is supplemented by a large wall map equipped with lights that show the positions of trains using the network of 36 tunnels and hairpin curves.

Auto Trailers

The German Camping Club reports that during the past months more than 100,000 vacationers toured West Germany with auto-trailers. The visitors from France, Belgium, England, the Netherlands, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, and Italy enjoyed the roadside facilities of over 1,000 camp sites.

The oldest town hall in Germany, in the town of Fritzlar, Hesse, has been restored to its original appearance. Dating from the early twelfth century, the building is composed of a two-storied Romanesque base supporting fifteenth century half-timbered upper stories (restored). A copy of the original slate-shingled roof completes the picturesque and now authentic structure.

The Wiesbaden Photographers' Club will stage an exhibition of photographs contributed by amateurs from all over the world. The show will be held in May 1965 under the patronage of the Federation Internationale de l'Art Photographique.

Don't Forget Yule Brings Crop of Burglars, Too

The Yuletide season brings Christmas trees, gifts, parties and burglars.

The jolly St. Nick atmosphere and spirit of good will seems to prevail everywhere . . . people relax, become more casual, forget care and worries . . . and leave doors and widows unlocked. The house burglar takes advantage of the general holiday atmosphere.

Last December household burglaries in a large U.S. city topped the highest figure for the other 11 months of the year by 128 thefts—total for December was 579, as compared to 451 for November, second most popular burglar month in 1963. Low month for the breaking-and-entering business was May with 340 burglaries. Average monthly figure for 1963 was 450.

And a very good share of these burglaries might have been avoided.

Officials at the Home Security Institute of Schlage Lock Company recently pointed out that relaxed home security during the Christmas season is primarily due to the old enemy—carelessness. If people will be reasonably careful and exercise common precautions, they can reduce significantly the risk of holiday burglaries.

At Christmas time, gifts and pakages are more readily accessible—they may be under the tree, they may be delivered to the front door, they may be kept together in one room away from small children. The professional burglar knows this and is on the lookout for easy entry.

He also knows that many people have considerable Christmas shopping cash on hand.

And he reads the newspapers to keep informed on the whereabouts and dates of large social gatherings—so he may pay a "Christmas call" while the unsuspecting resident is enjoying a party elsewhere—or he may even drop in at the party.

While guests are enjoying festivities in one part of the house, the sly "party-crasher" may be selecting a few choice fur wraps from the cloak room. It takes little ingenuity to slip quietly through a patio or sliding door heedlessly left open or unlocked.

Now, a few common sense rules to thwart our uninvited guest and insure the happiness of your happy holidays:

Remember, burglars always look for the easiest, quickest way in. A would-be burglar is reluctant to risk a breaking-and-entering charge by forcing a lock, nor does he care to take the time. And time is important to the burglar. The majority simply won't break into a home that is secured propertly. Every outside door should have strong lock on it with a deadlock latch. Deadlocking latch bolts automatically secure the latch when the door is closed, making it virtually impossible for an intruder to "jimmy" the lock.

Pay particular attention to any sliding doors your home may have. It may be necessary to install a metal pin in the track back of the door so that it cannot be pushed back until the pin is removed.

Windows, too, should have secure locks. A simple measure for ground-level, double-hung windows is to insert two stout screws in the window frame to prevent it's being opened far enough to permit entry.

Safeguard your house keys. Never label them, nor leave them on your ignition key ring. These are invitations to trouble, as are keys left in the mail box, under the door mat or behind the holly wreath on the door.

When you are going to a Christmas party, inspect every door and window carefully before leaving—and don't forget to lock them! Leave a light on inside to give your home the at-home look. Outside, too, see that lighting is strong, particularly at front and back doors. Our burglar doesn't like to work in plain view. And don't advertise your social plans. Keep them out of the paper until the day after the event, rather than the one preceding it.

If you exercise these fundamental security measures and don't invite the burglar in, you will help insure a merry Christmas for yourself and your family — and those gaily-wrapped gifts beneath your tree will delight the intended recipients Christmas morning.

Santa Has Many Names

The giving of gifts, since the Wise Men and shepherds brought gifts to the Holy Child, is traditional to this present day. But Santa's name differs from country to country. Poland has Mother Star who brings the gifts, for Father Star is to be feared.

In Holland it is St. Nicholas who distributes gifts in children's shoes near the chimney. To the Swiss the gifts are brought by an Angel who ride in a sleigh drawn by 6 reindeer. The English await Father Christmas. The Spanish wait for the bearing of gifts from the traditional Three Wise Men. Italians receive their gifts from "La Befana" who carries a broom and goes from house to house in search of the Christ Child.

Dutch Cookery Michigan Style

Holland, Mich., is a small town rich in traditions inherited from its earliest settlers, the Dutch.

Known as hospitable people, the Dutch celebrate the Christmas season by inviting friends and relatives into their homes where they are welcomed by a table bountifully laden with delectible foods.

Gathered around the blazing fire in the hearth, the guests can expect the fun to include a good old-fashioned song fest and such delicacies as piping hot Oliebollen (Dutch fritters), beautifully decorated Banket Staven (almond roll), Advocaat (eggnog) or perhaps Dutch hot chocolate, and of course deliciously roasted chestnuts. Only the budget limits the endless array of sweets and drinks to be offered. In the "Old Country" as the food was offered, the host would direct these words to his guests: "Eet smakelijk," translated it means "eat well and with taste."

A cookbook, recently compiled by the Junior Welfare League of Holland, Mich., has appropriately been named "Eet Smakelijk." Scattered among the 900 recipes are many of the traditional Dutch favorites that heretofore have been handed down for generations by word of mouth. Such tempting treats as Amandel Koekjes (almond paste cookies), Kletskopjes (lacy almond cookies, Krakelingen (flaky butter cookies in the shape of figure 8s), Speculaasjes (Santa Claus cookies)" Jan Hagel (sugar cookies), Marsepein (almond candy), Zeeuwse Babbelaars (hard candy) and of course, the ever popular Saucijzenbroodjes (pigs in the blanket) are among the usual chosen for the holiday season. One very special recipe contained in EET SMAKELIJJK is Boerenjongens, a Dutch drink prepared at least three months in advance of the Holiday Season.

Junior Welfare League is a group of 75 women ages 21 to 35 years who care for the needs of the children in the community. Over the past few years they have donated equipment for the Pediatric Department of Holland Hospital; given to the children's section of the Herrick Public Library; helped to equip and maintain the Child Guidance Clinic and have offered vitamins and eye glasses to needy children. Each year they present a series of puppet shows; a children's concert; an activity fair and an art show for all the children in the area. In addition, entertainment is provided for the handicapped and mentally retarded children. Each member of Junior Welfare League also gives a minimum of 10 hours of her time every six months, without pay, to a variety of community services.

OLIEBOLLEN
(Dutch Fritters)

1 yeast cake
¾ cup warm water
1 teaspoon sugar
3 eggs
1 pint warm milk
3 tablespoons white syrup
1 pound package, raisins
4 cups flour, unsifted
3 level teaspoons salt

Put warm water and sugar on yeast cake. Let stand in warm place for 30 minutes. Beat eggs and combine with pint milk, yeast, syrup and raisins in large kettle. Sift flour and salt into first mixture and mix well for 2 or 3 minutes. Test a spoonful of dough to see if it will fall in lump form from the spoon. If not, add a little more water or milk. Let it rise for 2 hours in a warm, not hot, place. Fry in deep hot fat as for doughnuts.

BANKET STAVEN
(Almond Roll)

1 pound almond paste
2 cups sugar
3 eggs
4 cups flour
1 pound margarine
1 cup water

Let paste, sugar and eggs stand in bowl for 30 minutes. Blend flour, margarine and water in bowl, like pie crust. Dough may be refrigerated overnight, if desired. When ready to prepare, divide dough into four equal parts. Roll dough on floured board to size 8 by 13 inches. Cut lengthwise into two equal strips (8 strips—4 by 13 inches in all). Prepare the filling by mixing the almond paste with sugar and eggs. Form the filling into 8 cylinders 12 inches long, the diameter of a dime. Place filling rolls on length of dough. Fold over the ends, and then the long sides, moistening one side to seal, before pressing closed. Place with seam down on cookie sheet. Brush the top of the rolls with either egg white or milk. Bake in 425 degree oven for 10 minutes. Prick holes on the top for air and return to oven and bake for an additional 10 minutes at 375 degrees or until light brown. These can be decorated with sugar icing.

SAUCIJZENBROODJES
(Pig in the Blankets)

4 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 scant cup lard
Milk, enough to make a soft dough
3 pounds lean ground pork
Salt and pepper
Sage, if desired
4 rusk, rolled fine

Mix the first five ingredients and roll the dough into pie crust thickness. Add seasonings and rusk to meat. Mix well and shape into rolls, the desired size. Put meat roll on dough and fold over the ends of dough. Bake in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes or until outside is nicely browned.

ZEEUWSE BABBELAARS
(Hard Candy)

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1-3 cup vinegar
1-3 cup water

Mix ingredients, bring to a boil and continue boiling without stirring until a spoonful dropped into cold water becomes crisp. Pour into buttered pans and as soon as cool enough to handle, butter the hands and pull into long strips and cut at once with buttered scissors into small square pieces.

For Fine Finale Use Mincemeat

Mincemeat's a many splendored food which, quite predictably, pops up at many parties throughout the year. Here it's in an elegant role as the exciting finale to a company dinner. Not only does this Mincemeat Marshmallow Pudding appeal to eye and appetite, it's amazingly simple to make. Just combine all ingredients in one step in a single bowl. On a cold, cold winter night this pudding will be most appreciated when served hot, peaked with hard or lemon sauce and a walnut half.

Mincemeat Marshmallow Pudding
(Makes 8 servings)

2½ cups finely crushed graham cracker crumbs (approximately 18 crackers)
1½ cups ready-to-use mincemeat
1 4-oz pkg. marshmallows cut into small pieces
1 cup coaresly chopped walnut meats
¾ cup evaporated milk

Combine all ingredients in a large bowl. Blend well together until thoroughly moistened. Press mixture firmly into eight lightly buttered five-ounce custard cups or molds. Fill cups only two-thirds full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrhenheit) for 30 minutes, or until marshmallows are melted. Unmold. Serve hot with hard sauce or a lemon sauce. If desired, garnish with walnut half.

After Outing: Chowder Tip

After that outing there's nothing like a hearty chowder to warm up the crowd. Try this one. Cook 2 slices bacon until crisp; remove and crumble. Pour off excess drippings. Add ½ cup chopped onion; cook until tender. Add 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup, 1 soup can water, and 1 cup cream-style corn. Heat, stirring now and then. Garnish with crumbled bacon. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

SAVORY HAMBURGER

For a new-look hamburger, slip shredded western iceberg lettuce, ripe olive wedges and tartare sauce into the bun, under and over the ground beef patty.

Teen Twisters Go for Soup

"Twisting" teen-agers as well as their parents go for this tasty soup anytime . . . anywhere. Cook ½ cup diced cooked ham, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, and ⅛ teaspoon crushed thyme in 1 tablespoon butter a few minutes. Add 5½ cans (3 cups) cold water; bring to a boil. Stir in 1 can (1¾ ounces) chicken noodle dry soup mix. Partially cover; simmer 7 minutes, stirring now and then. Makse 3 to 4 servings.

S.F. Airport Losing Mud Says Official

San Francisco last week officially discovered what many Peninsulans have known for a long time: some of our mud is missing.

The mud in this case is former fill once chucked into San Francisco Bay to uphold the north end of San Francisco International Airport.

That was in 1942, when the area was hastily filled as a site for a World War II seaplane base. Later, Pan American Airways took it over for the maintenance base they operated until moving to new quarters this past summer.

Meanwhile, back at the former mudflats, the once-high fill-and-blacktop area had slowly been sinking into the sunrise. The land was oozing off into the bay in such quantities that buildings built at ground level now stand two feet above the soil line.

Fortunately, explained the city's public utilities commission president, Thomas P. White, last week, the buildings were pile-driven to more solid ground.

Nevertheless, he told the PUC, "the problem can't be ignored any longer."

The filled out but sinking land occupies some 65 acres, he said, and may cost $2 million to bring back to grade level.

White brought up the problem after the PUC had been asked to approve a $142,000 heating system for the old Pan Am buildings, which are now rented to other firms.

Although the system will save $46,000 per year in operating costs, White said:

"It's just putting money in something that's going to have to be built again in a few years, or else we'll have to go in and put the place on pontoons."

D. C. Chamber Plans Party

The Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual Christmas party at noon Thursday, December 17, in the Friar Room of Serra Bowl.

Edward Morgan is chairman of the program. As in the past, a high school chorus will entertain the group with Christmas carols. Daly City Attorney Paul Hupf and U. R. Kendree, managing director of shopping centers for Henry Doelger Builder, will provide additional musical entertainment.

Bethel Sends 4 To Conference

The Bethel Church of Pacifica sponsored four young people to a three-day youth convention of Christ Ambassadors in Northern California in Turlock.

The delegates — Penny Ambrosen, John Canales, Paul Wilson and Donna Underwood—accompanied adult sponsors Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Long to the convention.

At the convention, the group discussed such topics as school, religion, family relations and marriage.

FORMER TRUSTEE REVIEWS YEARS

She'll Be Missed by Bayshore

By MARILYN BRANNAN

THE BAYSHORE School District, from all indications, will surely miss the friendly and experienced hand of Mrs. Marcia Datzman who has vacated her seat on the board of trustees because of a change in residence.

She had served for 13 years on the board and, in an interview, remarked that she has only memorable memories.

"I've lived in this area for 19 years and all four of my children received their elementary schooling in the Bayshore District," Mrs. Datzman said.

"I was born in Minnesota but I consider this my home. I will miss working with my fellow trustees and I'm sure it will take awhile to fill that spot in my life."

Mrs. Datzman and her husband, Marse, a purchasing agent, have moved to 190 Lassen Drive, San Bruno.

REMINISCING about the years, Mrs. Datzman recalled the district was comprised of only one school, Bayshore, when she started her 13-year term. Now it has three.

She commented that although the district has a fairly stable enrollment with little population influx, subdivisions that will be built someday in the Crocker Hills will make more schools necessary.

"We already will have the land necessrsary to provide adequate schooling for children moving to our district," she said.

Mrs. Datzman said she considers Bayshore to be a district with a high academic reputation.

"In the last Jefferson High School graduation class, Bayshore alumni comprised nearly the entire upper 10 per cent of the student body," she said proudly.

MRS. DATZMAN said it is hard to remember any real rocky times during her term as a trustee.

"The court battle for the Robertson (School) site was a long, hard process but on the whole we have had fairly smooth sailing."

She said many people think that a district comprised largely of naval personnel must pose transient problems.

"On the contrary, we don't have a transient problem because we make each family an integral part of the community whether they are here for a year or a lifetime," she said.

Asked her opinion on the State Board of Education's recent refusal to split the Jefferson High School District into two smaller unified districts, Mrs. Datzman nodded her approval.

"I'm not against unification but I am against it the way it has been presented so far," she said.

Mrs. Datzman added that a unified district would not give Bayshore anything it doesn't already have but would take away one vital item it does have—local control.

"We have nearly 600 students in our district and I can honestly say I personally know 300 parents. This personal touch adds someth... invaluable to school adm... istration and activity," s... emphasized.

2 Promotion Lists Legal, Counsel Says

Daly City Attorney Paul Hupf has informed the city's Personnel Board that he sees no conflict in the existence of two employment or promotion lists created by civil service tests.

Board member Joseph Schultz had asked for the clarification at the board's November meeting when members considered approval of a new list for police sergeants.

Hupf said according to the city's personnel regulations, the old list must be considered first.

It has been the city's policy to call for tests to create a new employment list when it appeared that a list was almost exhausted, he said.

Schultz had argued that two lists could not exist at the same time.

D.C. Post Office Plans Special Yuletide Hours

Special post office hours for the Christmas mailing season were announced today by Daly City Postmaster Vicent P. Murphy. They will start Sunday and continue through the day before Christmas. This will be the schedule of hours for all Daly City stations:

Daily after Monday: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, December 12, and Saturday, December 19: 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday: 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Main Office and at the Westlake Office. Bepler Street and Colma will be closed.

Sunday, December 20: 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Main Office and Westlake Office. Bepler Street and Colma will be closed.

All stations will close at 5 p.m. Thursday, December 24.

Murphy also offered these tips for Christmas mail:

Use five-cent postage for Christmas cards and insert ZIP code numbers. Cards sent by four-cent stamps may not carry a personal message in addition to the usual signature. Cards with five cents postage may.

Use strong cartons in packaging gifts. Wrap with heavy paper and tie with sturdy cord.

Place an extra label, showing return address and the full address of the destination, inside the parcel so that in the event of loss of the outside label, the article may be properly forwarded or returned.

May Limit Growth of Pacifica

A proposal that Pacifica set an ultimate population beyond which...

...way in the Sharp Park area to allow for future commercial development.

Petitions Are Due Tuesday

Members of Pacifica's Help Eliminate Lax Planning (HELP) parent group continued preparations last week for circulating a recall petition directed at the Laguna Salada School District board of trustees, according to Eugene Cowhig, chairman of the group.

He said members are working on precinct lists and expect to begin circulating the petitions Tuesday.

The HELP group was formed to oppose the transporting of 29 children from Ortega to Linda Mar School. The move was ordered by the district at the start of school this fall to eliminate overcrowding at Ortega.

Since then, vacancies at Ortega have occurred, district officials say, and parents were allowed to return their children from Linda Mar. Parents of six children took this course of action.

Medics Seek Hospital Data

Interest in a proposed Pacifica Emergency Hospital has been manifested by a group of doctors who practice outside Pacifica.

James Foley, Pacifica attorney representing a group seeking establishment of an emergency facility, said last week a realty broker representing the outside doctors has sought information from him about the group's proposal.

The group is awaiting a report from doctors at the Pacifica Medical Center that will outline staff requirements and hospital procedures needed in an emergency facility.

The numbers are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or dash (-) when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given by the chart (U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey).

Why & How

Can I sell the used cars below at such inexpensive prices? It's not easy! But the reason is efficiency of operation. Even though these prices are cheap I'm making more than the average dealer who charges you $200 more.
